ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am greatly indebted to my supervisors Prof. S. Mohanraj and Prof Julu Sen for their expert guidance and constant advice which was extremely valuable to me throughout the PhD course. My sincere gratitude goes to Prof. S. Mohanraj for his able guidance during the first few years of my PhD studies and his patience and understanding which helped me progress through the years. My heartfelt gratitude and respect goes to Prof. Julu Sen who has been my source of strength and inspiration. Her kindness, understanding, patience and resourcefulness guided me towards the successful completion of this thesis.

I am thankful to Prof. S. Upendran for his advice and encouragement at various stages of my PhD journey.

I am also grateful to Prof. Paul Gunashekar for his kind advice and guidance at various occasions through the course.

My sincere gratitude goes to my advisory committee members - Prof. Meera Srinivas and Dr. Kshema Jose, whose able academic guidance and advice contributed much to the success of the research process.

I am also thankful to the teachers Prof. Jayashree Mohanraj, Prof. Padmini Shankar and Prof. Chanchala Naik for their guidance, advice and timely help.

I am extremely grateful to Prof. Geetha Durairajan for her critical and valuable comments, understanding and kindness which encouraged me to pass through tough times.

My very special thanks go to all the lecturers who helped me in standardizing the questionnaires.
My special thanks go to:

- Dr Sathish, Librarian and the library staff of EFLU for their kind cooperation;
- Dean and staff of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences of the Open University of Sri Lanka for extending a helpful hand;
- Head and staff of the Department of Language Studies of the Open University of Sri Lanka for their support and cooperation.

I am extremely thankful to all the teachers/visiting academics and the students who responded to the questionnaires, interviews and discussions.

I am indebted to Sudeepthi and Deepesh for proof reading the chapters.

I also acknowledge the World Bank Project (HETC) which funded this study and the staff of the HETC Project who helped in making this study a reality.

I remember with love and gratitude, my dearest friend Anusha, who had been with me during good and bad times in life, encouraged me to progress in life, inspired me to complete my PhD but left us before I could reach there.

My heartfelt gratitude to my very special friends Najwa, Sudeepthi, Deepesh, Nirosha and Dhamma who had been my constant source of strength and support.

Last but not least my sincere thanks go to my friends Kala, Pradeepa, Sanath, Subashi, Kishore, Karthikeyan, Kulateung, Niveditha, Divya, Sophia and Soumya, who stood by me during tough times and encouraged and helped me in numerous ways.

Finally, my heartfelt gratitude to my late father and mother who sacrificed immensely to see me progress in life.
