ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

‘Praise the lord’

To start with, I wish to thank God for always being my source of strength because of whom I was able to experience such a splendid journey.

First and foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my intellectual mentors and wonderful people Prof. Anu Singh Lather and Prof. V.K. Nangia for their splendid guidance, support, and motivation which not only made me learn how to do research but also the practical perspective towards it. Their supervision helped me throughout the journey of this research. Whenever I encountered any problem on academic front or at the personal level, their words of wisdom reinforced my thinking and helped me to work to my potential.

Also, I would like to thank Dr. Shilpa Jain for her unending encouragement and help.

Also, I am grateful to Student Research Committee (SRC) members for their thoughtful comments, wonderful support, and encouragement.

I would specially acknowledge the profound influence of my parents, my brother, my sister in law.

My heartfelt appreciation to my beloved husband, Ramesh Shukla for his unending love, support and encouragement and support. His belief in me has been the only reason. I has been the real reason, I was able to complete this doctoral work.

There are numerous other parties who deserve thanks including the people who have taken interest in filling up my questionnaires.

I would like to thank Prof. Sanjiv Mittal (DEAN, USMS) for giving me this opportunity to work and complete my thesis.
