 ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all those persons and institutions which have helped and ultimately led to the completion of this research work.

First and foremost, I would like to thank my Research Guide Prof. S.Srinivasa Rao who inspite of his other commitments took a lot of interest in my effort and saw that I had all the access to the discussions with him. Words prove inadequate when I realize his meticulous insight through-out the research. But for his patient guidance the thesis would not have taken this shape.

A special mention needs to be made about the colleagues in the department. Here I take the opportunity to thank, Prof. Subadra Ragothaman, Professor and Head, Department of Economics for constant support and encouragement. I express my gratitude to Dr. Kirti S. Zankharia, and other senior faculties with whom I have been in touch. A special mention is to be made for Dr.Gaurang Rami, Associate Professor in the Department and Shri. M.B. Dave for suggesting the statistical tools and sorting out analytical aspects.

During the course of my research, It was necessary for me to avail the facilities of various academic and government Institutions. I would like to make a special mention of the Center for Social Studies. The Center was helpful to me in framing the questionnaire and other. I would like to thank the Director, and other faculties, especially Dr. Vimal Trivedi and Dr. Ratnawali. A deep sense of gratitude is reserved for my Principal, Shri.I M Patel who has directly and indirectly inspired me to work for this degree.

I express my thanks to all the health officers, and administrative officers of the various government offices and health centers in Olpad and Surat district Panchayat.

A Special mention needs to be made about Nilesh Patel who has untiringly typed and formatted the text and charts in the thesis. Last but not the least I acknowledge the co-operation of all the respondents and friends without whom the study would not have been possible

Finally, I express my obligation and deep sense of gratitude towards Father who has been a motivating force in my life, especially after I lost my mother some years back. To my wife Geeta, my daughters Ishani and Hiya who have borne my absence during the period when they needed me the most.
