The time has come to realize my life goal which I had dreamed about when I was a child. I am inspired by Padmabhusan late Dr. A.P. J. Abdul Kalam’s quote – “Man needs his difficulties because they are necessary to enjoy the success of achievement.” Today my joy has no boundary when I am going back to reap the benefits of my relentless efforts to pursue my dream.

In the way that every ten thousand mile journey starts with a single step and every drop in the ocean is countable, in the same way I am thankful to my first supporter my family-loving wife Dipika’s sacrifice and selfless help along with both our sweetheart sons Darshil & Param who wholeheartedly allowed me to use my free time – which belongs to them - to achieve my goal. Once I decided to write my thesis, my respected parents - adorable daddy Natvarbhai and kind mummy Manjulaben offered me their full support to satisfy my needs.

I am also thankful to my younger brother Hasmukh along with his loving wife Kinjal and our dear nephew Neel and dear niece Bisha who encouraged me with my beloved sisters Mayaben and brother in law Dilipbhai, nephew Ronak and Bhartiben, brother in law Bharatbhai and nephew Rushabh to study more without worrying about my familial responsibilities. My father in law Jashubhai and brother in law Vikram and his wife dear Sunita and two loving children Dev and Forum have constantly encouraged me by asking about my progress in research.

Once I started walking on the path of my research - Dr. Bharatkumar B. Baldaniya uplifted me and he became my wholehearted guide to enhance my progress and he has been my mentor in writing this thesis work. Without his solid backup, I would not have continued my research work.

I have been lucky to come across many selfless intellectual individuals whose support has brought light in the dark night. With high regards, I would like to mention their names - In 2014, Dr. P.K. Patel provided good feedback during research.
After arriving in Toronto, Canada, Prof. Rathi Param and Dianne Da Silva have provided me facilities for synthesis research which gave me much further motivation.

Dr. Ravi Gukathasan opened the door to success in my life with his good feeling by allowing me to use analytical techniques for pursuing research.

In 2016 Dr. Scott Laneman and Dr. Keith Hyuane gave me good guidance to keep focusing on my goal. With more and more individual support, Dr. Shital Chandotara and Dr. Ajay Gupta have been like a brick of my foundation. Also, Dr. Leijun Hao extended good cooperation to carry on this torch.

During my settlement in Toronto, I met my fatherhood figure Ashokbhai who inspired me to progress rapidly. All above-mentioned most dignified, respected and caring individuals – I would like to thank them wholeheartedly for their continued support. I am grateful to them for my whole life and I sincerely appreciate their help in fulfilling my lifelong dream. Thank you, words are not enough to mention. I would like to thanks to my dearest friend Kamalnayan Singh for his motivation and support. Last but not least I am extremely obliged to JJT University who allowed me to pursue my research. With many thanks and regards to all of the great individuals in my life for their wonderful cooperation.
