LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1: The three circles of English ..........................................................
Figure 2: concept of method and approach .................................................
Figure 3: Krashen and Tererell (1983), Natural Order Hypothesis...........
Figure 4: Monitor Hypothesis .................................................................
Figure 5: Speaker’s input (i+1) ...............................................................
Figure 6: Affective Filter .................................................................
Figure 7: Maslow’s hierarchy of needs (1970)..............................................
Figure 8: ACTFL Proficiency Guideline (1986).............................................
Figure 9: Tony Silva (1990), coherent model of Interrelationship......................
Figure 10: writer-reader........................................................................
Figure 11: Dynamic and unpredictable model of process writing...................
Figure 12: Dunkin and Biddle (1974, 38)......................................................
Figure 13: GAM for EFL/ESL writing.......................................................