Acknowledgement

I place on record my sincere gratitude to

- my Research Guide, Dr. Verghese Leena, for her unstinting support and encouragement. I thank her especially, for her gentle prodding whenever I lagged behind, and for her constructive criticism and attention to minute details.
- the UGC for granting me the Teacher fellowship
- the management and the Principal, Dr. Sr. Kripa, Mercy College, Palakkad, for providing me the opportunity to avail FIP.
- The Principal, office staff and the teachers of the Department of English, Basilius College, Kottayam for all the support and encouragement extended.
- my colleagues in the Department of English, Mercy College, especially Dr. Praseedha G for shouldering some of my responsibilities at the college so that I could carry on with my research.
- Ms. Jyothimol P and Ms. Anju Kurian for helping me out during our visit to Madras University Library, British council and American Library, Chennai.
- Mrs. & Mr. Allan Brandon for getting me the primary sources and other books needed.
- Maxim Hong Kingston, one of the authors selected for analysis in this thesis, for encouraging me and for sending a collection of her interviews.
- my mother for praying for me and for being what she is, a woman of great strength of character.
- my husband, Dr. Francy K Kakkassery, for his constant support and unfailing confidence in me.
- my children, Joseph & Anna for patiently enduring all the hardships of having a research scholar as mother.

Finally I thank God All Mighty for making this possible for me.
