ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis is the outcome of a few years’ efforts and during this journey I have worked with many people whose contribution in assorted ways helped making this complete. I take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to them all.

First and foremost, I would like to record my gratitude to Dr. Mathew J. Manimala, Professor-Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Bangalore, for his supervision and advice. His extraordinary insights and experience in the research space had been an absolute benefit. He had been giving unflinching support and motivation during every step of this research. His passion for research, had been contagious and that had inspired me immensely as a scholar. I’m indebted to him beyond words.

Rajagiri College of Social Sciences, where I have signed up as the scholar, has provided me with the institutional support that I needed to progress. The three months’ assignment that I had with Rajagiri was very useful. During that period I have handled project analysis and reporting, under the efficient guidance of Dr. Celine Sunny. The Doctoral Centre headed by Dr. Mary Venus Joseph had been successful in ensuring appropriate scholar interactions and in conducting periodical training programs (such as Research Methodology and SPSS). Those initiatives were very helpful for the progress and completion of this research. Though I haven’t had much opportunity to work closely with Dr. Injodi, his captaincy here is to be highlighted in the overall management of the research centre of Rajagiri. It would be unjust if I don’t mention the names of Ms. Hemanjali, Ms. Sheena, Mr. Vinayan, Mr. Kunjumon and other associates of Rajagiri whose timely help was inevitable for this research to get completed. My heartfelt expression of gratitude to all at Rajagiri College of Social Sciences.

I extend my gratitude to Ms. Princy Thomas, one of the Research Assistants at Indian Institute of Management (IIM), for the immense help she had offered for the data analysis job. I’m indebted to her for spending quality time out and helping me progress through the analysis part. Also would like to extend my gratitude to Ms. Padmasree Vijayakumar for her help and support.
The support of the staff of the Academic and Evaluation departments of MG University and the support and advice of Mr. Sree Ranganathan were valuable during this phase.

Mr. Alex Thomas, Managing Director of Tiara Foods who is a friend and well wisher had been of immense help. He has helped me through his networks to connect with some very good organizations. I place on record my deep felt gratitude to him.

A few names from the industry that I like to remember with thanks are Dr. Surekha Zakariah, Mr. Niket Sundar, Mr. Prem Kumar, Ms. Jyothi Sharma, Ms. Baby Berly, Ms. Reshma, Mr. Roel Velming, Mr. Sreenath, Mr. Sunil Kulangara, Mr. Ashok Mani

Mr. Nidheesh, Ms. Lakshmi Nair, Mr. Sanal and Ms. Ramya Nair are my colleagues whom I like to remember with gratitude for taking efforts in helping me at various stages of this work.

The support I received from Dr. John Joseph who helped me to set high standards for my work with reference to statistical analysis was immense. Similarly, Dr. Annie David’s contribution is very significant in ensuring ‘thesis quality’.

Deliberations with my intellectual friends, particularly, Ms. Sunita Panicker and Mr. Dipu Varghese and Dr. Anil Kumar have helped me in discerning the percepts underlying my research and in fine tuning the questionnaires used in my research. Gratitude is expressed for their sincerity and support contributions sincerely.

My family is always a constant source of inspiration. I am, at this moment remembering my father, the (Late) Mr. K.K.S. Nair who always had a profound influence on me. Though he’s physically not with me today to join in my happiness, the spirit that he has left will always be with me. This study is a dedication to him.
My mother, Mrs. Rajalakshmi Nair was also very supportive in this endeavor. My husband, Mr. Jayasankar Nair was extremely supportive during this phase. Like to remember my little son Mukund, with plenty of gratitude who had been very sensible and understanding.

Also remembering all my teachers, friends, relatives, staff and well wishers who have always stood by me and supported me.

Above all, it is the light of god almighty that lead one and without that light nothing is possible.
