ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My PhD studies can be compared with a long tour in the mountains with many peaks and some valleys, with beautiful views and tiresome climbs, but with great satisfaction.

As I entered into the lab, I saw a quote written on one memento of GDYians meet 2006 as

"Failure is temporary but SUCCESS is AUTOCATALYTIC!!!"

What a good start to start with!!! This was the first encounter of me with the field of catalysis. And yes, I witnessed and realised the true meaning during nostalgic journey of my Ph.D.

This dissertation would not have been possible without the contributions of a great number of people. First and foremost, I would like to thank my Guru; Professor G. D. Yadav for accepting me in the group to start my PhD. For getting up my spirit when it was very low, your enthusiasm and guidance is really appreciated, not only in the research work but also how you can be a good person, how to enjoy every moment of life and how to overcome the stress. I have learnt lot of things from him, which I am not able to put in words but it will definitely reflect on me in near future.

Professor S. S. Lele and Dr. Atul Kaji needs a special mention for their continued mentorship until now.

I would like to sincerely thank my colleagues Indrakant, Prasad, Deva, Suraj, Rajesh, Payal, Prakash, Ashwini, Moreshwar, Mandal (Mandy), Rahul, Akhilesh, Kunde Sir, Gunjan, Saurabh, Saravanan, Godfree, Jeetu, Bapu, Suresh, Kalpesh, Sandip, Dhiraj, Shivaji, Akhil, Manish, Jayram, Abhilash, Kalidas, Anil, Ashish, Pramod and many more past and current GDYians for their help and invaluable time which they shared with me during the course of my research.

At the same time I cannot forget all my friends in the ICT hostel.

A man is known by his friends and so is the case with me. Words cannot describe the love and co-operation shown by lab-mates and friends. Thanks are also due to the Munna canteen, which provided some relaxation filled moments during research life.

I thank the UGC, Government of India for awarding the Senior Research Fellowship during the course of this work.

Very Special thanks to Sagar, Sachin (Cousins), Dipak (Brother), my Sister Manisha (Tai), for their unwavering love and support through thick and thin.

I am obliged to my maternal uncles Mama and Bapu for everything they did, to reach me to this stage. Words will come short to explain my gratitude for their love and support to me.

I express my deepest gratitude to my hard working Mother (Aai) and Father (Aanna), hard-hitting path in their life always inspired me to the right direction. Without their inspiration, this work would not have been possible.
