ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research work has been one of the most significant academic pursuits of my life. Without the support, guidance and patience of the following people, this study would not have been completed. It is to them that I owe my deepest gratitude.

My first words of gratitude must go to Prof. P. Venkata Rao who kindly accepted to be my research supervisor despite his many academic and professional commitments. His wisdom, knowledge, dedication and diligence have always been a source of inspiration for me. His constant support and guidance right from the initial to the final stage of the thesis has immensely helped me in this endeavour.

The supervision I received from my doctoral committee members, Dr. B. V. Sharma and Prof. G. Sudarshanam has been very valuable. I have always benefited from their professional guidance, suggestions and constructive discussions.

I also express my sincere thanks to the faculty members of the department- Prof. N Sudhakar Rao, Prof. K.K. Misra, Prof. R. Siva Prasad, Dr. George Tharakan, Dr. Romesh Singh and Sir Shaik Abdul Munaf- for their suggestions at different stages of the research which were quite enriching.

The support extended by the NCERT in the form of NCERT Doctoral Fellowship and the invaluable suggestions given by the experts of NCERT—Prof Emeritus T. Saraswati, Prof. A.K. Srivastava, Dr. Poonam Agarwal, Dr. Sharad Sinha - are deeply acknowledged.

I have a great obligation towards the staff and children of ZPHS and NMHS who patiently responded and cooperated with me throughout the field work. Without their co-operation this work would have remained incomplete.

I am grateful to the office staff of the department of anthropology - D.V Sekhar, Adinarayana, Ashok and Niranjan for their timely help and assistance in completing the official requirements.
It is always nice to have colleagues who are also friends. Interactions with Akhono, Amanda, Alok, Eswarappa, Kusum di, Mrityuanjoy and Udita di have always instilled confidence in me.

My brother Ravi, sister Susmita, and my brother-in-law Ishwar were always very supportive and stood by me in my decisions. My little niece Nishu fills me with fresh energy whenever I meet her.

Without the support and encouragement of my husband Vinay, I would not have succeeded in my endeavour. His profound love and trust has kept me going till the end. Our endless academic discussions have given me newer insights to think upon at each stage. Your magnanimity, sincerity, patience and resilience have taught me about the subtler aspects of human nature.

I owe a great deal to my parents who always had faith in me and gave me the freedom to do what I wanted at various walks of my life. I will forever remain indebted to them for their unending encouragement and firm support in whatever I pursue. Last but not the least, I thank God for his blessings and putting things in order at the right time in the right place.
