ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, I am very much thankful to my supervisor and guide, Prof. P. Narayanasamy, Department of Computer Science and Engineering, Anna University, Chennai, for leading me on and giving me the opportunity to explore the challenging field of Network Security. When research seemed eternally prolonged, my guide was always there helping me out, constantly guiding, encouraging and motivating me, just like a pole star guiding a mariner at sea to safety.

I am very much grateful to Prof. S. Kuppuswami, Principal, Kongu Engineering College, Perundurai, and Prof. V. Ramachandran, Vice-Chancellor, Anna University Tiruchirapalli, Trichirapalli for functioning as my Doctoral Committee Members and their valuable suggestions, advice and insight. These suggestions and advice put me in the right direction of my research work.

My special thanks go to Er.G.Deivasigamani, Er.A.Arthanareeswaran and Er. V. Satishkumar for their kindness, support and encouragement for my research work.

I wish to place on record my heartfelt gratitude to Prof. B. Umamaheswari, Head, Department of Electrical and Electronics Engineering, Anna University Chennai and Prof. C. Chellappan, Head, Department of Computer Science and Engineering, Anna University Chennai for their understanding and support during my crucial and critical days of research work.
