Bibliography and Reference

BIBLIOGRAPHY
AND REFERENCE

Bibliography and Reference

• Damay Coralie (2008), “What is the meaning of “price” and “being expensive” for children?” Young Consumers: Insight and Ideas for Responsible Marketers, Vol. 9 Iss: 3, pp.179 – 188.

• Devoe Merril (1956), Effective Advertising Copy, The Macmillian Co; 1956. pp. 88–89.

• Ellerton Louise (2004), ““Context is all”: what those marketing to children need to know”, Young Consumers: Insight and Ideas for Responsible Marketers, Vol. 5 Iss: 2, pp.35 – 39.

• Freeman Olivia (2009), “‘The Coke side of life’ – an exploration of pre-schoolers’ constructions of product and selves through talk-in-interaction around Coca-

Bibliography and Reference

typology for baby boom couples”, Journal of Consumer Marketing, Vol. 10 Iss:
3, pp.33 – 42.

• Lawlor Margaret-Anne, Prothero Andrea (2008), “Exploring children’s understanding of television advertising – beyond the advertiser's perspective”,

• Lawrence Dave (2005), “Measuring the pulling power of promotions”, Young Consumers: Insight and Ideas for Responsible Marketers, Vol.6 Iss: 1, pp.50 – 53.

• Lawrence David (2003), “The role of characters in kids marketing”, Young

• Lee Christina Kwai-Choi, Collins Brett A. (2000), “Family decision making and

• Lee Kam-Hon (1987), “The informative and persuasive functions of advertising:
A moral appraisal — A further comment”, Journal of Business Ethics, Vol. 6
No.1, pp.55-57.

• Levin Stephen R., Petros Thomas V. and Petrella Florence W. (1982),
53 No. 4, pp. 933-937.

• Lindquist, J.D. (1979), “Attitudes of Elementary School Children towards Advertising on Television and Radio and in Children's Magazines and Comic

• Lindquist, Jay D. (1978), “Children’s Attitudes toward Advertising”, Asia Pacific

• Lindstrom Martin (2003), “TweenSpeak: the new branding language”, Young

• Lindstrom Martin (2004), “Branding is no longer child's play!” Journal of Consumer Marketing, Vol. 21 Iss: 3, pp.175 – 182.

• Mangleburg, Tamara F. and Terry Bristol (1998), “Socialization and Adolescents’ Skepticism toward Advertising”, working paper, College of Business, Florida Atlantic University, Fort Lauderdale, 33301.

• Manish Mittal et al. Parental perception of the impact of television advertisements on children’s buying behavior. The IUP Journal of Marketing Management. 2010; IX 1 & 2: 40-54

• Marvin and Goldberg and Gerald J Gorn, Some united consequences of TV advertising to children, journal of consumer behavior: 22-37

Bibliography and Reference

• Paquette G. La violence sur les réseaux Canadians de television, Pediatric Child Health 2003; 8:293-5.

Stack S, Gundlach J, Reeves JL (1994), the heavy metal subculture and suicide. Suicide Life-Threatening Behav 24:15–23

• Wut Tai Ming, Chou Ting-Jui (2009), “Children’s influences on family decision making in Hong Kong”, Young Consumers: Insight and Ideas for Responsible Marketers, Vol. 10 Iss: 2, pp.146 – 156.

