ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The work on this thesis has been an inspiring, often exciting, sometimes challenging, but always an enjoyable experience. The writing of this thesis was a shared experience. This thesis owes its existence to the help, support and inspiration of many people. It is a pleasant aspect that I have now the opportunity to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude for all of them.

In the first place, I would like to record my gratitude to Dr. S. K. Tripathi, Reader, Chemistry Department, V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur, for being the outstanding advisor. Her constant encouragement, support, invaluable suggestions and fruitful discussions greatly enriched my knowledge and made this work successful. Her perpetual energy and unflinching enthusiasm has motivated me the most. She was always accessible and willing to help her students with their research. Her foresight vision has made her a constant oasis of ideas and passion in science which truly inspired and enriched my growth as a student and a researcher. Her uncompromising quest for excellence has made deep impact on me.

I gratefully acknowledge Dr. K.K. Tiwari, Principal, V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur for his contributions and valuable feedback which made him a backbone of this research and to this thesis.

My special thanks go to Dr. H.R. Tripathi, Head, Department of Chemistry, for his time to time guidance which enabled me to work in proper direction and the submission of thesis in time.

I cannot forget the support of Dr. D. S. Gupta and Dr. V. N. Badoni, the then faculty members and Dr. Rajeev Shukla, Dr. Arvind Dixit, Dr. V.S. Gangwar, Dr. Nand Lal, Dr. Alok Srivastava, Dr. Sandeep Kumar Singh, Dr. Ashish Singh and Dr. Kiran Singh & Dr. Neelam Pal the present faculty members of Department of Chemistry, V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur for their guidance at various stages of the work.

I am highly obliged to Dr. Anup Kumar Ghosh, Professor, Centre for Polymer Science and Engineering, I.I.T., Delhi for his kind support in carrying out, FTIR, NMR, TGA and DSC analysis.
I owe special gratitude to all my colleagues namely Dr. (Mrs.) Kavita Srivastava, Dr. Rajesh Bajpai and Dr. Sukhen Mistry for sharing experiences and knowledge and extending their valuable cooperation and help in every possible way. My colleagues gave me the feeling of being at home at work. It was a pleasure to work with them.

Words fail to express my appreciation to my mother Smt. Manjulata Tripathi and my father Sri. A. K. Tripathi and my father-in-law Mr. V.N. Shukla, my mother-in-law Smt. Raje Shree Shukla, for their love, never ending encouragement, moral support, patience and understanding during the research work. They have always been my best counselors. I am also very grateful to my sister Smt. Rachna for their unconditional support.

I gratefully thank my wife Smt. Aparna Tripathi for their continued help throughout the work. I can not forget my children Master Pranav and baby Addhya Tripathi for their good wishes and sweet talks helped me to complete the work.

Special thanks go to Mr. Rajpal Singh, Malti Graphics for the timely completion of this thesis.

Lastly, I would like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realization of thesis as well as expressing my apology to those whom I may have forgotten to mention in this list.
