ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

With deep respect and love I record my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. K.C. Sankaranarayanan, Director, School of Social Sciences (Professor and Head, Department of Applied Economics), Cochin University of Science and Technology, Cochin, my esteemed guide, for his sincere guidance, fruitful discussions, effective criticism, ever willing help and continuous encouragement during my research work.

My deep sense of indebtedness goes to Dr. K.P. Mani, Associate Professor, Kerala Agricultural University, for all help extended starting from the selection of the topic till completing the last chapter. No words would suffice to express my obligation to him as his lectures and advice helped me a lot in my profession and research and who only instilled into me an instinct to pursue higher studies.

I express my sentiments of profound gratitude to Late Dr. T. Prabhakaran, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, College of Veterinary and Animal Sciences, Kerala Agricultural University for all the help and encouragement extended to me during the preparation of this report; but he is no more to see the completion of this effort. My sentiments are before his loving memory.

I take this opportunity to express my thanks to Mr. Chandrabhanu, Agricultural Officer, Department of Agriculture, Ernakulam, Dr. M. Mohandas, Associate Dean, College of Co-operation and Banking, Kerala Agricultural University, Vellanikkara, Dr. P.P. Pillai, Retired Professor and Head, University of Calicut, Aranattukara, who was also my Professor at the post-graduate level and also to Dr. M.K. Sukumaran Nair, Professor, Department of Applied Economics, Cochin University of Science and Technology, who was my supervisor for the M. Phil degree period.

I thankfully acknowledge my obligation to Dr. M.V. Nadkarni, Professor, Dept. of Economics, Institute for Social and Economic Changes, Bangalore, for his help in refining the methodology and his comments are incorporated in the thesis. I will be failing in my duty if I do not give expression of sincere thanks to Mr. T. Suseelan, Professor, Dept. of Statistics, Sree Kerala Varma College, Thrissur, my beloved teacher at the undergraduate level.

I also express my profound gratitude to the librarian of State Planning Board, Thiruvananthapuram, Bureau of Economics and Statistics, Thiruvananthapuram, Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala Forest Research Institute, Peechi, Kerala University, Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala Agricultural University (Mannuthy, Vellanikkara), Dr. John Mathai Centre, University of Calicut, Thrissur, Institute for Social and Economic Changes, Bangalore, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi and Cochin University of Science and Technology, Cochin.

It was my mother who actually initiated me into this herculean task and provided all conveniences, comforts and facilities and remained encouraging me at every stage. I fall at her feet and express indebtedness.
My gratitude also goes to late beloved father in law, Achutha Menon for providing me all encouragement, advice and guidance for this work which I value most. My thanks are also to beloved husband Mr. V. Pankajaksha Menon, who has been after me all along monitoring the work.

The credit for the success of this endeavour also goes to Mr. Sukumaran, Delta Computers, Thrissur, Tel. 362576 and, Vaisagham Institute, Olarikkara who were prompt enough to type this work neatly and in time. I thank them profusely.

Finally I thank the almighty for all the blessings showered on me. I bow my head with all respects before the lord.

SREEJA.S
INTRODUCTION