“A Study of Nationality, Emotional Maturity and Employability in Post Graduate Students of Vocational Education.”

ABSRACT

Brain Drain is major problem for Development of India and for employment for youth. The purpose of this study was to find out difference Nationality, Emotional Maturity and Employability in Vocational Education postgraduate students and relationship between Nationality, Emotional maturity and Employability in Vocational Education postgraduate students. Another aim of the study was give suitable work plan for curriculum development.

The survey method was applied on 600 samples. The survey of thesis was conducted and administered (Nationality Feeling questionnaire By Self Made, Emotional Maturity by Prof. Yushvir Sen and Dr. Mahesh Bhargava, Perceived Employability Scale By K. P. Naachimuthu) Questionnaires were administered and (600 post graduate students of Vocational Education) responses were received.

The results of the study were that 1. There is significant difference in Nationality between Master of Technology students, Master of Business Administration students and Master of Computer Application students. 2. There is no significant difference in Emotional Maturity between Master of Technology students, Master of Business Administration students and Master of Computer Application students. 3. There is significant difference in Employability between Master of Technology students and Master of Business Administration students, between Master of Technology students and Master of Computer Application students.4. There is correlation between Employability and Emotional Maturity of Master of Computer Application students found negative 0.78 respectively. For research suggestion an action plan was given implementation.

Key Words: Nationality, Emotional Maturity, Employability, Brain Drain.