ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I would like to extend my boundless gratitude to many people. Let me start by thanking God for guiding me through this journey and for giving me the gift of faith, hope, knowledge, understanding, counsel, fortitude, and wisdom to choose wisely. I couldn’t have got this far without His advocate.

Dr. Harpal Singh, Lecturer, my major advisor, thank you for giving me hope when I was down, you have a way of reviving my hope. You made it possible for me to complete this Ph.D. thesis. You are truly one of a kind because it is very rare to find anybody that would do what you have done for me. Your outstanding knowledge about what you teach, and your ability to practice the pedagogy is an inspiration that will abide with me for life. You have inflicted upon me the act of devotion and care for students by your example, I promise to do the same wherever my destiny leads me. Dr. Markendey Rai, thank you for inspiring me to do better. Your leadership and collegiality I adore and shall emulate. Your teaching principles including clarity, structure, enthusiasm, humor, task-oriented, and much more—including your attention to details are talents that have made a permanent mark in my career. Thank you for all your candid advice and devotion to students’ success.

Dr. Dinesh Kamar, I cannot thank you enough for all the times you created for me whenever I need help with my research. I sincerely appreciate your care and your ability to make me feel very welcome during my visitations. I have learned a lot more than academics from you. Your virtues of uncompromising care and dedication to your students are reflected in your unquenchable smile. I’m looking forward to emulating and practicing these virtues in my life. I thank you Dr. Kiran Deep Kaur, for all you advice and encouragement when I most needed them. You might not remember, but you enlightened me towards my current career. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to learn from you. Your profound encouragement, relentless support and dazzling advice are priceless. Dr. Anil Kumar Upadhyaya, thank you for all you have done for me. My words could not tell you how much difference you have made in my educational experience. You gave man opportunity to experience what it is to be a thriving graduate student. Your guidance, support and encouragement towards research and conferences contributed a great deal to my scholastic development. Your tenacity towards research and publications, I hope to emulate through the duration of my career.

My sincere appreciation also goes to all supportive faculty, staff, and fellow graduate and Ph.D. students at the IASE D University, especially in the Department of Education for their support and encouragement throughout this program. Let me cease this opportunity to give the gift of praise and recognition to my family. I am extremely grateful to all of you that contributed in one way or the other to my education. Including my father (Raji ram), my mother (Badu Devi), my brothers, (Jaisha Ram), my sisters (Kalawati, Rukmani, Dhapi, and Suman) my wife (Anjna Kumawat) and special thanks go to my lovely children (Alok Kumawat and Dhavika Kumawat) for motivating me to do better. To my family and my wife, thank you for your inspiration through this journey, you are the source of my care, love, tenacity and dedication. To my children, thank you for your motivation, dream big dreams, choose wisely, have faith, remain hopeful, be persistent, don’t give up and you can be all you want to be. I love you all. I wish to extend my thanks to my innocent and sincere friend Smt. Sunita. I wish to owe all my friends and relatives for supports.

I thank Liberian and its assistants to co-operations. The researcher sincerely owes to those authors and researchers, whose publications and contribution have profoundly been utilized in this research.
