ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is a pleasure to convey my gratitude in my humble acknowledgement to all those without whom this thesis would not have possible. First of all I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Purnima Roy, who has provided me many fruitful suggestions, important advice and constant moral support during the course of this work. She kept constant vigil to keep my thesis on the right track. My special thanks with all regards to the head of the Department of Political Science, Prof. Ujjwal Kumar Singh, former head of the Department, Prof. P.K. Dutta and other faculty members of the department.

I would also extend my sincere thanks to my “SIR” S.S.P. Singh, who is a friend, Philosopher and guide for me.

During the study I visited many libraries: Central Reference Library, Ratan Tata Library of University of Delhi, Teen Murti Library and Library of JawaharLal Nehru University. I acknowledge with all gratitude the help, assistance and cooperation that were provided by the staffs and wish to thank them. I also acknowledge the help and assistance of the staffs of department of Political Science, University of Delhi, and my sincere thanks to the Principal of my college, Dr. S.K. Jolly for her consistent moral support, encouragement and cooperation without which this work would have not been finished.

I would like to thank to Mr. Kuldeep Nayar (Eminent Journalist), Mr. Lal Krishna Advani (then Information & Broadcasting Minister in 1977), Inder Malhotra (Eminent Journalist), Choudhary Ranbir Singh (Member of Constituent Assembly of India), MPs, Intellectuals, Bureaucrats, leaders and participants of JP Movement for sparing time from their busy schedules for interview.

I am forever indebted to my parents Mr. G.L. Mathur and Late Rambeti Mathur whose blessings have always been a source of inspiration. I can not express my gratitude in words for my husband Mr. Suresh K. Kanojea who always stood like a rock during my research and extended all possible support and encouragement when it was most needed the most. And my special thanks to my two little lovely sons Vishesh & Shreyash whose ever smiling face has re-energized me every day. Last but not the list, my sincere thanks to my mother-in-law Smt. Durgavati, my niece Sapna and driver Baba Hakam Singh who took all the pains for keeping me free from my domestic responsibilities without making any complain
