ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am grateful to Lord God Almighty for guiding me, strengthening me, sustaining me and carrying me on His shoulders in the laborious and strenuous, but exciting period I underwent to complete my dissertation. I still cherish the manna He dropped from heaven and which I have incorporated in my work.

My heartfelt thanks are due to my Guide and Supervisor, Dr. S. Chellakumar Rose, Principal of Scott Christian College (Autonomous) who most willingly consented to guide me and paved the way for my sincere efforts, and also helped me in all humane ways possible to submit my thesis.

I am deeply indebted to Dr. E. James R. Daniel, former Principal of Scott Christian College (Autonomous) for his constant succour and also for his scholarly and valuable critiques and insightful directives. A voracious reader and lover of literature as he is, once again he has played the Good Samaritan in giving the final shape to the thesis.

I owe my gratitude to Dr. Roger Pooley (University of Keele, UK and President of International John Bunyan Society) for suggesting relevant readings and sending his scholarly writings and helping me to keep my thesis updated.

I am immensely thankful to Dr. Robert Samraj (Rtd. Associate Professor, TDMNS College and Professor of English, Garyounis University, Libya), for instilling in me further interest in Bunyan studies and scholarship.

I owe more than thanks to my well wishers Mrs. Glory Devaraj (Associate Prof. W.C.C.) who cheerfully and with great concern proofread my thesis, Mrs. Jossie Sukumar (Reg. Nurse USA) who sent me valuable books at the right time and Mrs. Amudha Pandian (Associate Professor, Presidency College) who offered valuable suggestions and invigorated me.

My thanks are due to Mr. Prayer Elmo Raj (Asst. Professor, Malankarai Catholic College) and Dr. Felix Moses (Associate Professor, Madras Christian College) for lending a helping hand whenever I need clarifications. My thanks are also due to Mr. Johnson (Librarian, Concordia Seminary) who helped me with books and showed keen interest in my thesis.

I remember with gratitude our Principal Dr. (Mrs.) J. Sinthikayal, our Correspondent Dr. J. John Sahayam Chelliah, our former Principal Dr. (Ms). Vasanthavathy and our former Correspondent Adv. P. Selva Singh for providing a congenial atmosphere for my pursuit of studies.

I am thankful to the UGC and the Manonmaniam Sundaranar University for opening out a way for my research.

I fondly remember Mr. Frederick Devadoss (Managing Trustee, JENEFA) and Mrs. Indira Alexander (Rtd. Principal, W.C.C.) who upheld me with their prayers and words of encouragement whenever I was a little weary, and my brother Er. Sathesh Fells (Executive Engineer, TWAD) who was a pillar of moral support to me.

I thank all the members of the English Department who were with me in all my endeavours. Through their multifarious work they together remain a string of pearls in my memory.

A special word of thanks is due to Mr. D. Simon, Concordia Seminary, Nagercoil for his typing and neat execution of the work.
I cannot find words to thank my husband Mr. Peter Siluvai (DMPB) and my daughter Er. Monica Arsela (TCS) who selflessly cared for my progress and not theirs, and bore with the inevitable inconveniences all the while I was engrossed with my writing.

My joyful tears I dedicate to my dear father Late Mr. Y. Arthur Fells and mother Late Mrs. Arul Bai Fells who dreamed high of me and rest peacefully

A. Geetha Shanthini Fells