

VITAE

R. Meenakumari is a faculty member in the Department of Electrical and Electronics Engineering, Kongu Engineering College, Perundurai. She received her B.E (EEE) with Honours from Thiagarajar College of Engineering, Madurai in 1989 and M.E in Power System Engineering from Thiagarajar college of Engineering, Madurai in 1991.

She has been working in Kongu Engineering College since 1991 and has the vast experience of 18 years at various levels in her profession. She received the Best Teacher award during 2003-04. Her fields of interest includes computer applications to power systems, system optimization, power system planning and decision making tools.

She co-authored a book “Electromagnetic Fields” published by New Age International Publishers (P) Ltd., New Delhi. She is an accredited Energy Manager, a certification from Bureau of Energy efficiency, New Delhi. She has published two papers in International Journals and 14 papers in the National and International conferences. She is the reviewer of the book “Transmission and Distribution” published by Pearson Education Publishing (P) Ltd., and reviewer of Elsevier Journal, namely “European Journal of Operation Research”.