ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Acknowledgement sums up and expresses one's gratitude towards every being that have contributed towards the achievement of a goal. It seems at this point to be a herculean task. But surely it's worth giving a shot. First and foremost I am ever so grateful to my family for being the pillar of my being giving me unconditional love, nurturing me into the human being I am today.

This thesis is dedicated to my father whom left for his heavenly abode in early 2011. I love you papa, your thoughts will always guide and inspire me and I’ll strive to become what you had envisioned for me.

It is very exciting to be associated with the dynamic field of research where you get to learn till you are alive. First and foremost my sincerest gratitude towards my supervisor Prof. Mridula Bose, for accepting me in her lab, giving me freedom to think and explore all the possibilities before planning any experiment. She has carefully guided and nurtured scientific acumen in me to be able to complete this thesis. I’ll be ever so grateful to her for being the torch bearer of my first brush with research and for introducing me to the field of population genetics. Her knack of getting things out from you is a real gift and has contributed greatly towards completion of the thesis.

In the same respect I would acknowledge Prof. H. G. Raj and my teacher Dr. J. L. Bhatt for initially guiding me and inspiring me to join research.

I am also grateful to Dr. Mandira Varma-Basil, my co-supervisor for being so gracious in tending to all my queries and guiding me throughout my work.

I am thankful to Dr. J.L. Banavaliker, my co-supervisor guiding and helping me whenever I needed any help.

Thanks to Dr. Vani Brahmachari, ACBR, my advisory committee member for guiding me through her valuable advice.

I am thankful to the ex-director of VPCI Dr. V. K. Vijayan and the present director Dr. S. N. Gaur for providing me opportunity to work with V. P. Chest Institute. I am also thankful to all the teachers at VPCI Dr. Malini Shariff, Dr. Madhu Khanna and Dr. Anuradha Chowdhary for guiding me through the seminars we had at our department.
Fundings and Scholarship from CSIR and ICMR is duly acknowledged.

I am thankful to all my seniors Dr. Neeraj Saini, Dr. Monika Sharma, Dr. Amita Chandolia, Dr. Rashmi Pasricha, Dr. Anil Singh Baghel, Dr. Prija Ponnan, Dr. Prabhjot singh and Dr. Pankaj Jha for making me feel at ease during my stay at Patel Chest.

I am greatful to my current lab mates and seniors Rakesh Pathak, Rajesh Sinha, Kushal Garima, Nisha Rathor, Anshika Narang, Naresh Sharma, Shradha Porwal, Pooja Singh, Rashmi Tandon, Devla, Gaurav Tyagi and Astha Giri for being there in the suKh-dukh, I cherish every moment spent with you guys. You’ll always be in my prayers.

The help in all the alb activites by Rupesh Bhaiya and Pradeep is acknowledged.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the trainees Komal, Panchali, Harshul, Swati, the Chatar-matars (Indu, Akansha, Aditi and Antara) and ......and all those whom I had the opportunity of interacting while in this lab. All such interactions have helped me broaden my horizon and outlook in life.

Thanks to my childhood buddies Diksha, Ravi for everything. Thanks to all my friends from school especially Vivek Mishra, Amar Jeevan for standing by me and motivating me through life. Thanks to my graduation batchmates Deepika, Sobia, Geetu, Gyan, Uday, Vikas, Yash, Santosh and company for making the graduation days enjoyable.

This acknowledgement won’t be complete without acknowledging my brothers Mrinal and Vishnu who have taken care of the household at such a young age for me being able to pursue my higher studies.

I am grateful to my friend and brother Anupam Prakash, for being there always whenever I needed him. Chotu, you are a great company to keep. All the best for all your future endeavours. If you need anything you know which way to look rite......

Last but not the least I would like to thank God almighty for giving me strength to tide through the tumultuous times.

Abhimanyu
