This space seems too small to express my gratitude to all those who have helped me to realise my long dream to write this Thesis. At the outset, I express my profound gratitude to my Supervisor Prof. Aswini K. Ray whose consistent encouragement and expert advice have gone a long way in shaping my thesis. Without his patient and creative support I would not have been able to complete my work. In fact, he has enriched my knowledge with his invaluable suggestions and comments. My frequent interaction with him on various issues of problem has helped me in understanding the intricacies of the problem.

I am extremely grateful to Dr. Balgovind Baboo (Reader in Sociology, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar), Dr. A. B. Ota (Water Resources Department, Bhubaneswar) and Prof. Kuldeep Mathur (Centre for Political Studies, JNU, New Delhi) for giving me insight and encouraging me in completing this work.

I deeply admire the help of Upper Kolab Gana Sangharsha Paridhad who took me to the project site and spent days escorting me around the Upper Kolab Dam Site and displaced village’s to see the devastating effect of displacement and poor resettlement measures.

I would also like to thank my friend and other project officials for their assistance and motivation in collecting primary and secondary data.

Thanks are due to the oustees of the new cluster of Koraput; Jeypore, Rayagada, Kotpad, Pottangi, Lamataput who responded to our questions and provided valuable information.

A number of libraries rendered immensely useful services. I am thankful to the staffs of JNU Library, Indian Institute of Public Administration Library, Indian Social Institute Library, Nehru Memorial Teen Murty and Parija Library (Utkal University) for their assistance and cooperation to complete this work.

I am profoundly grateful to my parents who guided me throughout my life and poured their blessings to complete my work successfully. I also extend hearty thanks to my brothers Rashmiranjan & Gyanaranjan for their love, sacrifice and inspiration. I would also like to thank my beloved Mona, Pali & Priti for their moral support and enormous help whenever I needed them.

Last but not least, I am thankful to Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment, Government of India and Government of Orissa for providing material in preparation of this work the form in which the Thesis has been presented and ideas expressed are of mine. Thus, I owe the entire responsibility for any shortcomings in this work.
