ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to place on record with retrospection, my gratitude to all those who helped me at various stages in the course of my research. First and foremost, I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to my guru and guide Dr. RAMA BARU, who is more than a supervisor to me. The discussions, I had with her not only sharpened my ideas but also provided deep insight into the subject. Her appreciation pushed me to venture into new areas of knowledge and her able guidance made me remain focussed and be clear about my framework. Her trust and confidence in me further motivated me to put in the best of my efforts. Her unprecedented kindness and patience saw me through my testing times and finally her encouraging and understanding words, "I am there to help you" were so soothing especially at a time when I was feeling flustered and under confident.

I am highly thankful to DR. IMRANA QADEER for introducing me to the area of workers' health through her inspiring teaching. I would also like to thank DR. RAO, DR. RITU PRIYA, DR. SHAH, DR. ACHARYA and other faculty for their comments and suggestions at various stages of my research especially during the seminar presentations.

I am thankful to the women workers who spared much of their productive time and extended hospitality during my fieldwork. I am also thankful to Mr. Sethulingam and Mrs. Nagapraba for assisting me in building contact with key persons in Karur. My indebtedness to Kamalamma for providing me accommodation in Karur is due. I am thankful to the staff of the Centre for Social Medicine and Community Health, CWDS and HEPC for their ready help and kind cooperation.

I am extremely grateful to Srinivasan for coming to my rescue whenever I had difficulties in handling the computer. I am indebted to my friends Sharada and Padmini for their love and affection and providing me a home away at Delhi. I am also thankful to all my friends and well wishers - Rams, Kavi, Sri, Menka, Alli, Bijoya, Anita, Suja, Uma, Gopal, Vijay and Habib for being supportive and helpful.

This acknowledgement would remain incomplete, if I do not put in words my indebtedness to my parents and siblings who stood by me through out- supporting and encouraging. My brother, a rare human to find, supported me morally and materially from the day one I stepped into college education. His willpower and determination always remained a great source of inspiration. And above all, my gratefulness to God for bringing me to this level can never be printed in words.
