

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The present work has been completed under the supervision of Professor Meeta Deka, Head, Department of History, Gauhati University. The thesis has been enriched by her able guidance, constant support, and valuable inputs.

I extend my thanks to all the faculty members of History Department for their encouragement in completion of this work, Professor Jagat Swargiary, Department of Education and Dr. Anil Kumar Boro, Associate Professor, Department of Folklore for their help and valuable suggestions. While Kameswar Brahma, President of Bodo Sahitya Sabha enlightened me on various aspects of the Boro traditional practices, Mangalsing Hazowary, advisor of Dularai Bathou Afad (Hodou Bathou Mahasabha) and a Sahitya Academy Awardee, and Gilbert Borgoary, Deputy Bishop of Bongaigaon Diocese, Northern Evangelical Lutheran Church (N.E.L.C), Gauranga Mission Kokrajhar gave certain insights into the work. Prahlad Kumar Brahma, Assistant Professor at Bishnu Ram Medhi Government Law College and Pranab Jyoti Narzary, Assistant Professor in the Department of Bodo, Pandu College helped me in translating Bodo Social Laws into English, for which I am grateful.

I extend my gratitude to the Indian Council of Historical Research for a Junior Research Fellowship, which helped me to carry out my field work. I am immensely grateful to the respondents, as well, for their patience and co-operation. Lastly, I greatly acknowledge my deep indebtedness to my parents for their moral support and inspiration in this academic pursuit, and my brother for 'flipkarting' all those books for me.
