BIBLIOGRAPHY

Cooper, J.D. 1970. The Economics Of Drug Innovation, American University, Washington D.C.

Government of India. 1952. First Five Year Plan, New Delhi.

253

Kinter, William R. 1975. and Harvey Sicherman, Technology and International Politics, Lexington, Massachusetts.

PhRMA: Issues & Policy: Priority Foreign Countries: India, www.phrma.org

Barral, E. 1996. 20 Years of Pharmaceutical Research Results throughout the World, Rhone Poulenc Foundation, Antony, France.

Proceedings of The 7th International Forum on Technology Management on Challenges for the 21st Century Networking East and West, Kyoto, Japan, 3-7 November, pp. 481-488.

Katrak, H. 1996. “Foreign Trade Policies, Domestic Competition and Benefits of Imported and In-House Technologies in the Newly Industrialising Countries.” In Balasubramanyam, V.N., Greenaway,

Kumar, N. 1996. Foreign Investment and Technology Transfer in Development: A Perspective on Recent Literature. Discussion Paper 9606, Maastricht UNU/INTECH.

NICDAP. Drugs and Pharmaceuticals: Industry Highlights, CDRI, Lucknow.

Patnaik, Prabhat. 1979. "Industrial Development in India since Independence" Social Scientist No.83 June.

282

Subramian, A. 1999. "TRIPS and Developing Countries: The Seattle Round and Beyond", paper presented to the Conference on Developing Countries and New Multilateral Round of Trade Negotiations, Harvard University, November 5-6.

The Arguments Relating to Parallel Imports are available at (Http://Www.Phurma.Org/Intnatl/Intellprop/Parallel_Phtml)

