CONTENTS

Acknowledgement i

Abstract ii

List of Tables xiv

List of Figures xviii

Abbreviations xix

Chapter I Introduction 1

Work Status of Mothers and Adolescent Children
Family Environment
Psychological Well-being (Stress and Adjustments)
Perceptions of Mothers/ Adolescents of Husband/
Father’s Role in Family Involvement
Time Management
Significance of the Study
Research Model

Chapter II Review of Literature 19

Work Status: Working Vs. Non-Working Mothers
Work Status and Family
Work Status of Mother and Adolescents
Family Characteristics
Family Environment and Adolescent
Psychological Well-being
Adolescent and Their Psychological Well-Being
Role Perception
Time Distribution
An Overview
Chapter III  Methodology

Statement of Problem
Assumptions
Objectives
Hypothesis
Research Design
Pilot Study
Final Study
Level I Analysis

Chapter IV  Analytical Findings

Inter-Group Differences
Relationship of Family Characteristics to Psychological Well-being (Stress and Adjustment)
Regression Analysis
Span of Work and Perception of Family Characteristics, Stress and Adjustment
Adolescent Categories and Perception of Family Characteristics, Stress and Adjustment
Perceptions of Working and Non-Working Mothers About Role of Husband in Family Involvement
Perceptions of Children of Working And Non-Working Mothers About Role of Father In Family Involvement
Time Distribution

Chapter V  Discussion

Inter-Group Differences
Relationship Between Family Characteristics, Stress And Adjustment
Regression Analysis
Span of Work and Perceptions of Family Characteristics, Stress And Adjustment
Adolescents Categories And Perceptions Of Family Characteristics, Stress And Adjustment
Perceptions of Working And Non-Working Mothers About Role Of Husband In Family Involvement
Perceptions of Children of Working And Non-Working Mothers About Role of Father In Family Involvement

Time Distribution

Summary

Chapter VI Summary, Conclusions, Implications and Suggestions 199

References 220

Questionnaire 256