ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to acknowledge and extend my heartfelt gratitude to the people who have made the completion of this thesis possible. Though words cannot express my heartfelt gratitude to them, I here by acknowledge their co-operation.

The thesis is a result of sincere effort, persistence and perseverance of my guide Dr. (Smt) Suman Lata whose encouragement, guidance and support from the initial to the final level enable me to develop an understanding of the subject. Her ideals and concepts have had a remarkable influence on my entire work.

I place on record my sincere gratitude to Professor Dr. J.C. Ajwani, Head of the Department (Psychology), Government Sindhi Girls College, Raipur, who gave me untiring help during my difficult moments. I am deeply grateful for his detailed and constructive comments. His important support and patronage marked the way to move ahead.

I owe my sincere gratitude to the administrators of the Kalyan P.G. College and faculty member of Education Department for their encouragement to pursue professional growth. Like wise the office staff for their relaying every communication sent in my behalf.

I owe my special thanks to my family, friends and one above all, the almighty ‘ALLAH’. Its pleasure to thanks my mother, Mrs. Ashrun Nisha and my father Mr. Mohammed Jaleel for their constant reminders and much needed motivation. I owe my loving thanks to my sister Ms. Khalida Begum and my sweet nephew Mohammed Danyaal for their loving support.

My sincere gratitude to Mr. R.L.Sahu, 8B/8/Sector-1, Bilai for his intense effort in sorting and compilation of the printed copies without which the thesis could not have been presented.

Lastly, I offer my regards and blessings to all of those who supported me in any respect during the completion of the thesis.
