Acknowledgement

First of all, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Professor Indra Nath Mukherji for his continuous supervision, leadership, support and encouragement during my thesis work. This thesis work would have never been completed without his analytical inspiration. I am blessed to get him as my supervisor who not only accepted my topic of thesis and provided me a proper guidance till the completion, but also helped and cared me in various odds of my JNU life. When my work came to standstill due to lack of required bilateral balance of payments statistics, he realized my problem and contacted to the concerned officials of Reserve Bank of India requesting them to provide required help. Though we got assurance from these officials, we could never receive the required help. Finally my problem was solved unexpectedly after I got data from some publications of IMF and only then I could continue my research. I am deeply indebted to my revered supervisor who realized my problem very seriously and helped me in diverse way with patience.

Secondly, I would like to acknowledge the help and support from the Chairperson Professor P. Sahadevan, Professor Mahendra P. Lama, and all other faculties of our centre who kindly provided their help and support during my thesis work. I do not think I would be able to complete my thesis work without their blessing and cooperation. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to all the official staffs of our centre.

Thirdly, I would like to thank my wife Laxmi Chaulagai and my son Swarnim Pravidhi Chaulagai, who always inspired me and stood cooperative in front of me forever. I earnestly acknowledge my father Prabhunath Chaulagai and my mother Saraswati Chaulagai, who always encouraged me with love and affection, to pursue all walks of my life. I also would like to thank my brother, brother-in-laws, sisters, sister-in-laws, nieces, nephews, cousin and relatives for their moral support and suggestion.
Fourthly, I would like to give sincere thank to my senior Hari Roka, who helped me greatly during my JNU life. I also would like to extend my indebtedness to Sweta, Ajaya, Indra, Rajan, Deepak, Yogendra, Mahendra, Mridusmita. Ram. Uttam and all of my friends in JNU and office for their continuous support, encouragement and cooperation.

Finally, I would like to acknowledge my office, Nepal Rastra Bank, the Central Bank of Nepal, which granted me the scholarship and leave to do research on the topic “Balance of Payments Problems between India and Nepal.” I am much more indebted to my office. I would like to acknowledge the support and help from the esteemed JNU, which provided me an opportunity to have a higher and competitive education.

27 July 26, 2007

Mahesh Kumar Chaulagai