Acknowledgement

Carrying out research work to completion and present in a lucid manner is a Herculean task. The same would not have been possible without the kind guidance and help of supervisor and co-supervisor from time to time.

It's beyond the words to express my sincere gratitude to my venerated supervisor Dr. (Mrs.) Swarnlata Saraf. Her intellect vision, research skills, inspiration and affection constitute the soul of the present research work. Her critical assessment, affectionate words and every available patience always kept me charged and motivated to perform best even in the situations of ups and downs. She is an institute in herself and I have to learn lot from her. Even in my whole life, if I am able to achieve a tiny fraction of what she has already accomplished, my life will be worthwhile and it will be real “Gurudakshina” to her.

I have an immense pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude to my Co-supervisor, Dr. Shailendra Saraf, Professor and Director, Institute of Pharmacy, Pt. Ravishankar Shukla University, Raipur for his generous support, invaluable guidance, thoughtful criticism and constant inspiration throughout the research work. I am sincerely grateful for his advice that was not limited to my academic and professional careers. I truly believe that his influence has made me a better person. He designed to strike chords of deepest warmth and personal affection for me in making my research work an adventives revelation, which will always remain an ideal symbol of inspiration to me throughout my life.
I wish to extend my sincere thanks and sense of gratitude to Director, Institute of Pharmacy, Pt, Ravishankar Shukla University Raipur for providing the best infrastructural facilities for carrying out my research work successfully.

Whatsoever little I achieved, my whole life is dedicated to my mummy, papa, the emblems of love and care. They stood behind and watched me to go to be my own. I made my own mistakes and learned from them. The values, they installed in me is the strength of mine to challenge this world face to face. My profound affections and heartfelt gratitude for them is beyond the range of inscription of words. To make them happy and feel them proud when it comes to my name is the ultimate goal of my life.

It's not beyond the words, if I thank to Institute of pharmacy, Raipur because it has given me life time friends Mahendra singh Ashawat, Gopal Garg, Amit Gupta, S.J. Daharwal, R. B.Saudagar, Deependra singh, Karunakar Shukla, Shailesh Jain, Vishal Jain, Manju Rawat, Amber Vyas, Ravindra Pandey and Amit Roy; with their silent support, love and compassion, which made me believe in my self and constant source of inspiration and motivation for me in my research work. I shall cherish the excellent moments spent with them throughout my life.

I owe my regards to all the non-teaching staff specially Shri S.L. Patel, Gora Chand Baghel, Rajendra and Ramesh for their wholehearted support during my research work.

I would like to put my special thanks to Ranbaxy Labs. Ltd., Dewas, Nicholas Piramal India Ltd., Pithampura and Zim Lab. Nagpur for providing aceclofenac, tizanidine hydrochloride, nimesulide, ethylcellulose and cellulose acetate as gift sample.

I am thankful to CGCOST, Raipur providing financial assistance and AICTE, New Delhi for providing instrumental facilities under the Research Promotion Scheme.

I offer my sincerest thanks to Head, Department of Geology, M.L. Sukhadia University, Udaipur (Raj.) for providing SEM facility.

I express my sincere thanks to Librarian and Assistant librarian of Pt. Ravishankar Shukla University, Raipur and Head, National Medical Library, New Delhi for providing library facility for literature survey.

Of course the best is always saved for last. Gratefulness for my family's support and for my wife's encouragement and understanding cannot be expressed in words. This thesis is dedicated to my wife Jyoti whose constant loyalty and support made it possible. Her support, encouragement, and companionship have turned my journey into a pleasure. For all that, and for being everything I am not, she has my everlasting love. Some people deserve special regards as they have contributed immensely by showering their unconditional love and affection. My earnest thanks to my loving son Vedant and daughter Vimukta, who shared light moments during my brief, visits at home.

Place: Raipur

Kamlesh Dashora