ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am deeply indebted to my supervisor Prof. Kamal Mitra Chenoy without whose invaluable suggestions, constructive criticism and continued support, this work would have been an impossible one. His advice and discipline, patience and encouragement at all stages of my work have been instrumental in completing this thesis.

I would like to extend my sincere gratitude and appreciation to all the institutes that provided me very useful materials and information. Especially, beside JNU, my deep thanks go to Indian Institute of Foreign Trade in New Delhi, Research and Information System in New Delhi and Korea Rural Economics Institute in Seoul. Many scholars in these institutes provided me invaluable comments and suggestions.

I feel a deep sense of gratitude for my parents whose unfailing love and concern have brought me this far. I remain entirely indebted to all my University Bible Fellowship friends for their persistent prayers and encouragement for the completion of this thesis. From the heart of my heart I am very grateful to my wife Jane, my daughter Jane Jr. and my son Joshua for their evergreen love and smiles.

My deepest thanks and praise go to my Lord Jesus Christ who enabled me to commence the Ph.D study by faith and complete it by faith. When I first landed in India I could not speak in English even a word. But Jesus taught me, "What is impossible with men is possible with God."(Luke 18:27) By the grace of God and my Lord Jesus I am what I am.
