Contents

Acknowledgement vi
Abstract vii

1 Introduction 1
1.1 Quantization of Electromagnetic Field in a Cavity 1
1.2 Interaction of Radiation with Matter 4
1.3 Jaynes Cummings Interaction 7
1.4 Quantum Entanglement in Cavity QED 8
1.5 Quasi-Probability Distributions and Phase Space Description 10
   1.5.1 Wigner distribution 13
   1.5.2 P-distribution 13
   1.5.3 Q-distribution 14

2 Generation of Superposition of multiple Mesoscopic States 16
2.1 Compass State of the Electromagnetic Field 17
2.2 Generation of the Superposition of multiple Mesoscopic States using Dispersive Interaction between Atoms and Cavity 20
2.3 Generation of the Superposition of multiple Mesoscopic States using Resonant Interaction Between Atoms and Cavity 23
2.4 Detection of the Generated Superposition of Mesoscopic States 31
   2.4.1 Homodyne detection of the generated superposition state 31
2.5 Effects of non-unity Detection Efficiency 33
2.6 Decoherence of the Generated Superposition State 34
2.7 Summary 36
3 Ramsey Interferometry with Quantized Field

3.1 Ramsey Interferometry

3.2 Ramsey Interferometry with Quantized Fields

3.3 Dependence of the fringes on quantum statistics of the fields

3.3.1 Ramsey fringes with fields at single photon level

3.3.2 Photon-photon interaction mediated by a single atom and quantum entanglement of two cavities

3.4 Two Atom Interferometry

3.4.1 Preparation of the entangled state

3.4.2 Entanglement Transfer from Fields to Atoms

3.5 Summary

4 Multi-photon Processes in Cavities

4.1 Two Photon Processes

4.2 Two Photon Emission in two Identical Atoms in a two Mode Cavity

4.3 Two Photon Emission in two Nonidentical Atoms in a Single Mode Cavity

4.4 Effects of Cavity Damping

4.5 Summary

5 Manipulation of Atomic Lifetime in Cavities Using dc-Fields

5.1 Spontaneous Decay of an Atom inside the Cavity

5.2 Manipulation of Atomic Lifetime Using dc-Fields

5.3 Summary

6 Quantum Random Walk of Photons in High Quality Cavity

6.1 Cavity-QED Model for Quantum Random Walk

6.2 Quantum Random Walk of Photons

6.3 Measurement of the State of the Random Walker

6.4 Decoherence in Quantum Random Walk

6.5 Summary

Conclusions and Future Outlook

Appendix

References

List of Publications