CONTENTS

Preface pp - 1 to 5
Statement PP - 6 to 19
Scheme of Transliteration p - 20
Abbreviations PP - 21 to 22
Introductory PP - 14 to 17

Chapter - I

Idealistic Thought in the Veda and the Upaniṣads
- The Philosophical hymns of the Rgveda
- Idealistic thoughts expressed in the Upaniṣads
- Idealistic thoughts expressed in some minor Upaniṣads

Chapter - II

The Brahma-Sūtra
- Idealistic Views in the Brahma Sūtra

Chapter - III

Idealistic thought in the Mādhyamika and the Vijñānavāda (Yogācāra) Schools of Buddhism

(1) Mādhyamika Buddhism
- Rejection of the theory of causation
- Confutation of all concepts
- Acceptance of two-fold truth
(ii) Vijnanaavada (Yogacara) Buddhism
- The unreality of the world-Mind's projecting power.
- Idealistic views expressed in the Vijnaptimatratisiddhi.
- External thing cannot be proved by perception.
- Similarity between the waking state and the dreaming state.
- Refutation of Atomic Realism
- World-transformation of consciousness
- Three-fold nature (trisvabhava)
- The law of Simultaneous Apprehension
  - (Sahopasambhanyama).

Chapter IV

Idealistic thought in the Yoga-Vasistha

Idealistic views expressed in the yoga-Vasistha
- World: projection of Mind.
- The empirical world compared with the dreaming world.
- The theory of Relativity.
- Avidya: Responsible for the creation of world.
- Whether the Avidya of the cosmic soul or of an individual Soul creates the world.
Chapter - V

Idealistic thought in the Gaudapadakarika

- Identity and date of Gaudapada
- Gaudapadakarika
- Idealistic views expressed in the Gaudapada-karika.
- Resemblance between the waking state
  and the dreaming state.
- Acosmism (Ajativada)
- Refutation of Causation.
- Mind's Constructive role.

Chapter - VI

Idealistic thought in the Vivekasudhamani

- Idealistic views expressed in the Vivekasudhamani.
- Empirical world compared with dreaming world.
- The Concept of Avidya (Maya)
- Creative power of Mind.
- Absolutism.
Chapter VII

Idealistic thought in the Brahma-sūtra-

Śaṅkara-Bhāṣya

- Śaṅkara as a Realist
- Śaṅkara as an Absolutist
- Adhyāśa is mithyā
- The Concept of Avidyā-creation
- Vedic and worldly dealings are relegated to the realm of Avidyā.
- Jīva
- Īśvara
- Creator of this world of appearance
- Avidyā and its locus.

Chapter VIII

Idealistic thought in the Brahma-sūḍhi

- Mandana Misra
- Idealistic views expressed in the Brhma-sūḍhi
- Negation of duality
- Negation of Creation (Srṣṭi)
- The Concept of Avidyā- its nature, types and locus
Chapter - IX

Srṣṭī-Drṣṭī-vāda

- The material cause of the world
- Locus of Avidyā
- Eka Jīva vāda
- Aneka jīva vāda
- Avidyā - one or many?
- Srṣṭi-Drṣṭi vāda

Chapter - X

Drṣṭī-Sṛṣṭivāda in the Vedānta-Siddhānta-Muktāvalī

- Locus of Avidyā
- Eka Jīva - Eka Avidyā vāda
- Rejection of the unapprehended - Existence (Ajñāta sattā)
- Drṣṭī-itself is Sṛṣṭi
- Rejection of the theory of causation.

Chapter - XI

Defence of Drṣṭī-Sṛṣṭi vāda

- The term Drṣṭī-Sṛṣṭi
- Defence of Drṣṭī-Sṛṣṭi vāda

Résumé

Select Bibliography