Maps Used in the Study:

1. Karnataka State 132
2. Bangalore (Rural) District 154
3. Gulbarga District 157
4. Kannada District 161

Table No.  Table used in the study:
Chapter -III Karnataka Experience: Making Sense of Police and Women’s Rights
3.1 Languages used in Karnataka State 137
3.2 Measurement of HDI, GDI 143
3.3 GDI values of major states (1992) 144
3.4 Comparative rankings of HDI & GDI for Districts of Karnataka 144
3.5 Comparative ranking of real GDP per capita and GDI values for Districts of Karnataka 145
3.6 Sex Ratios (District wise) 147
3.7 Status of Women (District wise) 151
3.8 Crime against Women (District wise) 152
3.9 Basic amenities available in Bangalore (R) District 155
3.10 Literacy rate of Bangalore (R) 156
3.11 Basic amenities available in Gulbarga District 159
3.12 Literacy rate of Gulbarga 160
3.13 Basic amenities available in Uttara Kannada District 162
3.14 Crime statement of Bangalore (R) 167-168
3.15 Crime statement of Gulbarga 170-171
3.16 Crime statement of Uttara Kannada 173-174

Chapter - IV Police and New Agenda of Gender Sensitization: Difficulties and Challenges
4.1 Personal profile of the police personnel 219-221
4.2 Exposure to & sensitisation of the concept of human rights. 224-225
4.3 Idea of human rights vis-à-vis women 225-226
4.4 Adequacy of Infra-structure 227
4.5 Police mentality towards some specific violation of women’s rights 227-228
4.6 What if protectors turn violator 228
4.7 Number of complaints, inquiries and cases registered against police personnel during 1998-2001 in Karnataka. 232
4.8 Total number of complaints per 100 police men 233
4.9 Departmental action and punishment awarded to police personnel during 1997-2001. 233
4.10 Sanctioned and actual strength of women police personnel in Karnataka. 246
4.11 Sanctioned and actual strength of Civil police personnel (women) in Karnataka. 246