ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The thesis, which the reader has in his hands, is the essence of blessings of elders, cooperation and support of many people and friends. In the follow-up, some names may be mentioned and some may be not, but their contribution has all been of importance.

Inspiration and guidance are invaluable in all aspects of life; I am deeply indebted to my respected teacher and supervisor Associate Prof. Tahir Asghar who has rendered his constant help and valuable guidance throughout my work. His patience to put up with my delays and demands upon his time, has been to say the least commendable. I shall ever remain in gratitude to him for all the academic and moral support that he provided to me.

I express my deep sense of gratitude for Babuji (Sri Bhagat Singh Kosiyari) for his affection and for forever encouraging words to excel and achieve best in life. His honest and generous approach to life is source of light in my life.

As this work inched towards its fruition, I had the opportunity to consult a host of libraries in Dehradun and Delhi. It goes without saying that I received ready assistance from the Staff of Various libraries in these cities. I am thankful to all of them.

Sincere thanks are due to Dr. M.N. Rajesh (Assistant Professor) for his support. I appreciate his helping attitude and cooperation extended to me.

Over the years, I have accumulated some debt of my friends, Arti Singh, Satendra Singh, Harnam Singh, Chandrasekhar M.B., Gautam Talukdar and Prabir De for extending their support and cooperation, whenever I needed. Special Thanks for Ruby, Vinod and Rupendra for helping me during my work.

A special note of thanks is reserved for my beloved Mother and my late father who have been source of inspiration and determination in academic pursuit. Last but not least, my gratitude goes to my brothers, Satnam and Kirat pal Singh Gill who have passed on their exuberance and vibrant spirits in pursuance of my academic excellence.

Gurpreet Singh Gill