The genesis of the work began with my quest to discover resemblances between the works of two illustrious personalities belonging to two different nations – Sir Walter Scott of Scotland and Shri Kanaiyalal Munshi of Gujarat. Both the novelists reflected in their writings, the environment, customs and traditions of their respective cultures through a remarkable fusion of historical truth and creative imagination. The very fact that the historical fictions of these two literary icons divulged uncanny similarities in spite of hailing from disparate cultures inspired me to undertake this project. I have endeavoured to make a comparative study between the select works of Walter Scott and Kanaiyalal Munshi keeping in mind the distinctive traits of two literary giants.

This dissertation is a milestone in my academic career. It is with immense gratitude that I acknowledge the support and help of my supervisor Professor Jayelipsinh Dodiya whose patience, motivation and enthusiasm helped me accomplish this project in a stipulated time. The ample freedom of expression that he has given me during the course of research made it possible for me to express my views freely in uncovering peculiarities of two legendary personalities of literatures rooted in two different set ups.

I also convey my sincerest thanks to Dr. Kamal Mehta, Professor and Head, Department of English, Saurashtra University for his valuable guidance and encouragement in the completion of my doctoral thesis. I owe my deep thanks to the faculties of the department of English, Saurashtra University, Dr. R. B. Zala and Dr. Sanjay Mukherjee who imparted necessary guidance during the course work of the Ph.D. programme. It was indeed a pleasurable experience interacting with a learned group of faculty members of the department of English during various sessions of Ph.D programme.

I owe my gratitude to Dr. Balvant Jani, Professor and Head, Department of Gujarati, Saurashtra University and Dr. Dipak Patel, Associate Professor, Department of Gujarati, Saurashtra University for their valuable inputs and clarifying my concepts regarding the historical bearings of Gujarati literature. My special thanks are due to Dr. J. M. Chandravadia, Associate Professor, Yogiji Maharaj Mahila Arts and Commerce College, Dhari who extended his good offices for whatever help I required during my visits to Saurashtra University.

I wish to put on record my sincerest appreciation and thanks to the Principal of my college Dr. D. R. Patel who constantly encouraged me and helped me with all the necessary books, journals and study material from the library. It is indeed a privilege to thank my colleagues Dr. Rashmikant Patel, Dr. Rajesh Makwana, Dr. Suresh Pawar, Dr. Kamal Dave, Mr. Jatin Bhatt and Mr. Harun Mansuri who helped me in various ways throughout the project. I am also thankful to the library staff and non-teaching staff of my college who extended their unstinted support in the completion of my work.

I also wish to convey my heartiest thanks to my loving friend Dr. Sima Gida Associate Professor, Meenaben Kundaliya Arts and Commerce and Computer Science College, Rajkot for imparting me moral support in the hours of difficulty. I heartily acknowledge the constant encouragement and support of my husband Dr. Amitabh Basu without whose assistance, I would not have been able to accomplish this task. My dear son Aditya who has been pursuing his engineering, has immensely helped me in spite of his hectic academic schedule, with his expertise in computer skills in drafting and formatting the thesis. I am also thankful to my father Late Shri Jagdishchandra Jani and my mother Mrs. Divya Jani for their continuous support in realizing my goal of consistent research. My sister Dr. Goral Jani has also extended untiring and selfless assistance to me during the course of my work. I also place on record my sense of gratitude to one and all who directly or indirectly lent their helping hand in this venture.

Above all, I owe it all to Almighty God for granting me the wisdom, health and strength to undertake this research and enabling me to its completion.

I wish to dedicate this work to the memory of my Late father Shri Jagdishchandra Jani who had always been a perennial source of encouragement in all my academic pursuits.
