Acknowledgement

I express my sincere gratitude and heartfelt thanks to Dr. Vikas Rawal for his guidance in shaping this study. It is because of his constant encouragement, penchant for perfection and constructive criticism that I could bring this study to completion.

I owe a lot to my parents who have given encouragement throughout. I am grateful to my wife Soma and two kids Shreyas and Sristi for bearing with me during the last five years. They have sacrificed a lot during the entire period.

I gratefully acknowledge the financial support as provided by the Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi by the way of open doctoral fellowships during the year 2007 and 2008. In this regard I am particularly thankful to Smt. Revathy Viswanath for her constant help and cooperation.

I am also thankful to Labour Department, Govt. of West Bengal for granting me study leave to pursue this research work. I am also thankful to all officials, staffs and my colleagues in Labour and Shops & Establishment Directorate for their help and cooperation during the last five years.

I will ever remain grateful to Sri Asok Mohan Chakrabarti, Chief Secretary, Govt. of West Bengal for providing me encouragement and inspiration.

I am grateful to Jeta Sankrityayana and Dr. Sanchari Mukherjee of North Bengal University, Dr. V.K. Ramachandran and Dr. Madhura Swaminathan of Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata, Prof Jayati Ghosh and Dr. Praveen K Jha of Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi for their insightful comments and academic contribution towards my research work.

I am also thankful to Dr. Atis Dasgupta of Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata, Prof M.S. Bhatt of Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi, Dr. Ruma Ghosh of V.V.G. National Labour Institute, Noida, Dr. Gopa Samanta of Burdwan University and Dr. Santanu Ghosh of Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Pune for their encouragement and inspiration at different stages of my research work.
I gratefully acknowledge suggestions and co-operations provided by all the faculty members of Centre for Economic Studies and Planning, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, at different stages of my research work. I also express my sincere thanks to Sri Prasanta Sen and other staff members of CESP for their help and cooperation. I am thankful to all my co-researchers in JNU for their help and co-operations in different ways. Broadly speaking, I am grateful to the entire JNU community.

I am particularly thankful to Arijit, Zakaria Siddiqui, Saurav, Mainak and Partha for their help and contribution to my work whenever I approached them. I am also thankful to Asit, Esha, Abdul, Indranil, Prabat, Jyoti, Aditi, Suchetana, Swati and many others for helping me in their own ways over the last five years.

I sincerely acknowledge the help and co-operations rendered by all the managers, assistant managers, staffs and others in sample estates, small plantations and BLFs during the collection of primary data. In this regard I am also thankful to Sri Prabir Bhattacharya, Secretary, Dooars Branch Indian Tea Association for facilitating the collection of primary data in sample estates. I am also grateful to many trade union leaders working in West Bengal tea plantations for their contribution and suggestions. In this regard I am particularly grateful to Sri Kanu Sanyal for giving me encouragement and inspiration. I am also thankful to Sri Samar Nath Chatterjee and Dr. S. S. Chowdhury for providing alternative perspectives during the course of various interactions with them.

I am also thankful to all officials of Tea Auction Committees in Kolkata and Siliguri for allowing me access to auction related data.

I am indebted to Sri Shymal Chatterjee of Siliguri for providing all kinds of support during the course of my field work as part of the study.

I am grateful to Nandita for inspiring me particularly during the last phases of my work.

I acknowledge the contribution of all the FM radio channels in Delhi and Kolkata which kept me company during the long nights of work.
It is not possible for me to name individually all the persons who have helped at various stages of my research work. I convey my sincere thanks to all persons concerned for their co-operations in their own ways. My apologies to all for not being able to mention their name individually.

However, any act of mistake or omission is my sole responsibility. Usual disclaimers apply.
