ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Most of all I am thankful to Dr. Ashok Khar, my research supervisor for his suggestions, occasional prodding and continuous encouragement. I have always been able to count on his support, professional or otherwise. My stay in S-114 has been a very pleasant one and credit for it should go to him and my other colleagues Gopalakrishna, Leela, Zareena, Nikam and Hanumanthu.

It is with pleasure that I express my gratitude to our former Director, Dr. P.M. Bhargava. His keen interest in my work has always been a source of inspiration.

I gratefully acknowledge the concern Prof. Sharat Chandra has shown in my present work and my future plans. In him, I have a senior friend with whom I share many academic interests and whose encouragement is invaluable.

During the course of the study as well as in developing the manuscript, I have sought advice of many colleagues. My association with Dr. Gowrishankar has been extremely rewarding in this regard.

During the writing, I have shown portions of this thesis to many friends for their comments. Much intelligent assistance in the early drafts was given by Manna which has improved the organisation of the thesis considerably.

It is again a pleasure to thank Asha, Manjula, Raghavendra, Rakesh and Sridhar who have reviewed the chapters. I also thank Girija, Muralikrishna and Naren for their help during the final stages of my thesis writing.

Arif has not only typed the manuscript neatly but along with others he pointed out most serious errors of language. Arif, Asha and Chenchal provided essential and unfailing help throughout that made it possible to complete the final version of the thesis.

I take this opportunity to express my appreciation to all the supporting staff of CCMB. Among all, Photography, Xerox, Animal House, Instrumentation and Drawing Sections deserve a special mention.

In CCMB, I have spent my time in a stimulating environment, closely associated with colleagues who are my friends, whose work and ideas interest me greatly, whose professional or personal help I can depend on. This atmosphere of ferment, full of lively discussion and critical questioning has guided me in many ways. I hope to reflect much of this constructive influence.

This stay would not have been as memorable without the affection and support of my parents and younger brother.

My study has been supported by C.S.I.R. in the form of a research fellowship.
