ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, I would like to thank my Supervisor Prof. A.K. Dubey, who had guided me with care and patience from the time when he evoked my interest in this theme till the day I completed my thesis and also in shaping and moulding my academic career. This work would not take its present shape without his invaluable guidance and suggestion from time to time.

Secondly, I am deeply indebted to Prof. S.N. Malakar and Prof. P.C. Jain, whose encouragement had really boosted my morale during the course of my work.

Thirdly, this thesis owes a great deal to the generosity of friends, family and institutions, whom I am grateful to acknowledge. I would like to thank the School of International Studies, JNU field trip committee that enabled me to visit La Réunion (France) for 15 days. I am also indebted to Organisation for Diaspora Initiative (ODI) Réunion Island and St. Suzanne Ashram of the Chinmaya Mission, the International department of the Université de La Réunion, for the logistic support and guidance during my short and comfortable stay in the Island. Thank you ODI Réunion. This field trip would not have been fruitful without the support, cooperation and encouragement from PIOs in Réunion. I am really grateful to the ODI president Jean Regis Ramsamy, Marianne, Shankaran, Rajendran for the local arrangement, Prof. Gilles Sagodira-for the personal interview with the Christian priest of Indian origin, Dr. Veronique Smith, Christian Vittori- Azale Publication, Prof. Catherine Boudet, Helen Carsuza, Selvam Chanemougame- President Tamij Sangam, Luçay Sobhaya Permalnaick, Nancy, Didier and Valerie of Piton St. Leu, Luçay Camalon and Family, Dr. Axel Kichenin-President USKIR, Roger Mounichetty and Family, Monsieur Christian and Madame Jasmine Amogom Poulé-Secretary Mahabhadra Kali Temple Association St. Pierre and her family, Monsieur Guy, Prof. Firmin Lacpatia, Monsieur Joël Bègue, Monsieur Sharib Bemat, Azel, Mademoiselle Zaenah, Monsieur Christian Cadivel. My special thanks to Prof. Christian Ghassarian, Institut d’Ethnologie - Saint-Nicolas Neuchâtel, for availing me all his write up on La Réunion. I am also extremely grateful to UGC/Rajiv Gandhi National Fellowship Scheme for S.T that really enlivened my research work.
