Acknowledgments

By the end of my Ph.D program in the Department of West Asian and African Studies, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, I would like to show my thanks to different institutions and people who supported me throughout my studying and research. The first thank goes to my supervisor Professor Girijesh Pant who gave me all the needed guidance and supervision despite his bus engagements as vice chancellor of Doon University, Dehradoon, he has persistently provided suggestions and guidance during my study in India as well as in preparing of my thesis. I am infinitely grateful to him.

My second thank goes to Committee Chair of West Asian Studies Division, Centre for West Asian and African Studies, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University for their help during my study in India, Professor Gulshan Ditel, Professor C. Jain, Professor A. K Pasha, Professor P. R. Kumarswamy, Professor A.K Mahaptra, and Dr. Sima Baidy for their guidance and valuable comments that helped me to develop my research and advance my theory. Also, I would like to thank the Chairperson of Centre Professor Ajay Dubey for his well administration.

My special thank will go to my mother and my father who supported and still support me strongly throughout my staying and studying in India over the last four years. My dear sisters specially Mojgan and brother Mohsen who helped me during these days.

I would like to thank my friends in Iran, Zahra Mehdizadeh, Zahra Ebrahim, Mehrdad Serjeooi, Katayon Lmaezadeh, Narges Amjad and Hengameh Menhaji who always tried to help me although they were not here. My Iranian friends in India Masoum Ghorsii, Akbr Razmjoo, Shirin Nabavi, Nemat Soalt, Narges Jaberi Nasab, Mandana Tisheyar, Mohammad Mohammadi, Tahreh Ghasmei, and Noshin Aflankian. I do want to thank my Indian friends, Vurshal Ghoble who always helped me gave me a lot of his time, Maduh Sismita, Jafar Khan, Asif Shoja, Priya, Rokman, Lungthui Yang Riamei and Rajiv.

In the last, I am thankful to my Syrian friend Mohammad Anbar for his technical and logistical help throughout my research.

However, while I have benefited from my professors in my thesis, I am the only one who is responsible for all shortages and mistakes and theory in my thesis at all levels.
