PREFACE

The constitution of India lays down the structure of the government both Union and State levels a parliamentary form of government. At Union level Parliament is the legislature that is bi-cameral and at state level legislative assembly is the legislature that is single house in maximum states and bi-cameral in some states. In a democracy, public official are ultimately responsible to the people. The legislative control over the administration through various tools. The legislative provides check against the otherwise unlimited authority of the executive branch. The legislature control over administration to make it accountable towards public.

In the process of its completion, I express my gratitude to my guide, Dr. S.S. Chahar, Professor, Department of Public Administration, M.D. University, Rohtak for being available to me as and when required. I am also thankful to all faculty members – Prof. Shashi Mehra, Dr. Anjana Garg, Dr. S.S.Dahiya, Dr. Rajesh Kundu, Dr. Jagbir Narwal Department of Public Administration, M.D. University, Rohtak for their comments and suggestions from time to time during the completion of the work.

At the same time I am thankful to my friends Dr. Vinay Deswal, Sunil Khokar, Manjeet Kumar, Ankush Narwal, Satish Malik and Staff members of G.S.S.S, Nara, member of library of Haryana Vidhan Sabha and Vivakananda Library for their help and cooperation during the analysis of the data. I owe a lot to my parents Sh. Mahabir Singh and Smt. Chooti Devi who stood behind me as a pillar of strength and encourage meet to go for higher studies. I also extend my love and affection to my son Shantnu and my dear wife Suman Narwal for providing me succor when I needed the most. I am also thankful to all Zaildar family members.

Vikash Narwal