ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The author wishes to convey his gratitude to Dr. P. Kachroo, Prof. and Head, Department of Botany, University of Kashmir, under whose guidance and supervision the whole work was carried out. His keen interest in the problem, his continued encouragement and the expertise available has been of considerable help and has had obvious influence on the level of the present work. He was also very kind to permit the author the use of his personal library and other collected material quite freely.

The author also wishes to thank the authorities of Kew Herbarium, New York Botanic Garden, Forest Research Institute, Dehra Dun; Botanical Survey of India, Dehra Dun, for helping in the identification of plants.

The co-operation and help extended, in particular by the following is gratefully acknowledged.

i) Prof. C. Favarger, Dr. H. Hartmann (Switzerland), Dr. V. M. Meher-Homji (Institut Francais, Pondicherry) for their invaluable suggestions and comments.

ii) Dr. Gurcharan Singh, Shri A. R. Naqshi for their help in identification of some plants and their excellent company which made all the difference in the plant exploration trips.

iii) Teachers of the Department of Botany in general and Shri G. L. Dhar and Dr. S. Farooq in particular for their critical and useful comments from time to time.

IV) My colleagues Dr. Vijay Koul, Mrs. Rajesh Mattoo, Miss Amina Bano, Mrs Ravi, Kirtee, and Mir for their excellent co-operation and help at various stages which made all the effort easier and interesting.

The author is grateful to Dr. M. K. Khashu (Regional Engineering College, Srinagar) for his continued encouragement throughout the course of this study.

The co-operation and help provided by Miss. Ranjana Koul is highly appreciable and sincere thanks are due to her.

The financial assistance provided by the Forest Department (Jammu and Kashmir Government), Department of Science and Technology, New Delhi; Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi is gratefully acknowledged.

The author confesses that it would be a great satisfaction if he would ever repay even a fraction of the debt he owes to his parents who have shown tremendous patience to bear with him during last few years inspite of his many failings.
