At the very outset, I must thank Allah for bestowing me patience and perseverance for enabling me to complete the doctoral research.

Any research work, irrespective of the type, the domain and the magnitude is an outcome of plethora of efforts, inspirations, guidances, support and co-operation which the researcher receives from different quarters throughout the course of his research work. It is now my moral duty to acknowledge with gratitude all of them.

I owe a deep sense of gratitude and obligation to my respected and learned supervisor Prof. Khursheed A. Butt, Head, Department of Business and Financial Studies, University of Kashmir whose able and constructive guidance, constant encouragement, moral support and keen personal interest have been quite instrumental in making the completion of this study possible. His encompassing knowledge in the area of finance has always proved a boon to the completion of this research work. Despite his countless responsibilities, he was always forthcoming in extending his technical expertise and ensured that I should come through all the odds during the course of the programme. I acknowledge my great indebtedness to him for his friendly behavior and attitude.

The researcher is indebted to galaxy of academicians who were always keen to see the work completed. All other faculty members of the Department of Business and Financial Studies, University of Kashmir would always prepare me to complete the research. They always encouraged the researcher and offered valuable suggestions during the course of the study. Special thanks are also due to members of the non-teaching staff of the same department for their help in numerous ways.

I am highly thankful to Prof. G. M. Untoo, Prof. S. G. Sarvar, Prof. A. R. Bhat, former Principals of the Islamia College of Science and Commerce, Srinagar and the present Principal Prof. M. S. Khan for their co-operation and encouragement.

My friends and colleagues in the Department of Commerce and Management Studies, Islamia College of Science and Commerce, Srinagar, particularly, Dr. S. V. Dar, Dr. M. A. Shah, Dr. N. A. Mirza, Dr. K. A. Mahajan, Dr. A. R. Beigh, Dr. M. D. Shah, Dr. A. M. Malla Dr. Seema, Dr. Nasreen and Dr. M. Y. Malik, great well wishers of the researcher, were always keen to see the work completed. I have no inhibition in placing on record the moral boosting attitude they showered at times when things in research looked gloomy.

As said this work is the outcome of so many sources. The researcher is highly indebted to officials of Srinagar and Jammu Municipal Corporations, Directorate of urban local bodies, Government of J&K, Housing and Urban development Department, Govt. of J&K, for providing relevant data necessary for the conduct of this study. The researcher is highly obliged to the faculty and other staff of the Indian Institute of Public Administration (IIPA), New Delhi, National Institute of Public Finance and Policy (NIPFP), New Delhi, Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), New Delhi, Jammu and Kashmir Institute of Public Administration, Srinagar, for the support in terms of making all published material available.

The researcher is highly indebted to the staff of Ratan Tata Library, Delhi School of Economics, Delhi University for allowing access to the valuable sources of knowledge. The Allama Iqbal Library, University of Kashmir, The Moulana Rasool Shah Library, Islamia College of Science and Commerce, Srinagar has also been a major source of knowledge providing relevant books on the area. I am highly thankful to the staff of these libraries for the same.

Lastly, I shall be failing in my duties if I do not express my sincere thanks to my parents, whose affection, blessings, encouragement and support made possible what appeared impossible initially. This research would not have seen the dawn of the day, had there not been the co-operation exhibited by my family during the whole course of the study. My son Tameem was always yearning for a parental love and care from me but I would remain engrossed in the studies. I shall never be in position to redeem the sacrifices they made over the last three years. My wife has been a source of constant encouragement throughout the study. There were times when one would get fatigued, monotony, lack of zeal, but then it would be she who would come with a word of encouragement. Her encouragement would always fillip me towards completing the research work. I shall never be in position to redeem her sacrifices.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not place on record the meticulous work put in by the documentations M/S UNIVERSAL COMPUTERS, Sadrabal, Srinagar for excellently type setting the manuscript and getting out with well bound copies with a brilliant print outs.
