ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am highly indebted to my esteemed teacher Prof. P.C. Agarwal, M.A., Ph.D., Head of the Geography Department, Ravishankar University, Raipur, for his valuable guidance and supervision of this work. Words fail to express my feelings of gratefulness to him. I am also thankful to Dr. R.C. Mehrotra, Head of the Linguistics Department, who took pains in correcting my language in the first draft of the Chapters. Thanks are also due to Dr. S.N. Upadhyay, Head of the Psychology Department for the discussion of statistical techniques. My other teachers and colleagues, Dr. S. Roy and Dr. H.S. Gupta helped me with the general discussion of my investigations.

I extend my sincere thanks to the officials of the Madhya Pradesh Forest Department and of various other Departments for providing me the necessary data and records for this work.

My thanks are also due to the honourable Vice-Chancellor for the award of a research scholarship and financial assistance for field work and the purchase of drawing and photographic material.

M/S. Kankali Institute deserve thanks for carefully typing the thesis and M/S. Monalisa Studio Raipur, for photocopying my maps. Lastly, I wish to thank my friends, colleagues, and well wishers, who encouraged me at every stage of the work.
