ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to accord my sincere thanks to Professor R. MEHROTRA, Head of the Department of Economics, Doctor Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya, Sagar, for his valuable guidance in my doctoral work.

This study could not have been possible without the helpful co-operation of my husband Professor R.S. Kasana. The strength provided by him throughout my career, on which I have heavily depended during many difficult moments. I must mention my little son Gagan, who has sacrificed the most without a grudge or a frown in my academic endeavours ever since he was born.

I am grateful to the Librarian and Staff of the Jawaharlal Nehru Library, Doctor Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya, Sagar, for all the help and assistance provided to me during the period of my desk research. I will be failing in my duty if I do not place on record my thanks to the National Social Sciences Documentation Centre, New Delhi; Indian Council of World Affairs, New Delhi; J N U Library, Delhi; Vikram Sarabhai Library, IIM, Ahmedabad; Servants of India Society Library, Pune, for the co-operation rendered to me during my visits for Library consultations.

In the end, I place on record my thanks to Mr. Rajendra Koshti of Computer Concepts, for having typed the thesis skilfully and timely.

Chitra Kasana
