ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I present this thesis with immense pleasure and happiness.

The present/s is an attempt towards a concise account of "A Socio-Biological Study of Aggression in the samples of Jains, Brahmins, Chamars and Muslims boys of Sagar in Madhya Pradesh".

This study has been carried-out on comparative assessment of the biological and social economic bases of Aggression among the four ethnically diverse populations, living under similar ecological condition.

I am conscious of my obligations to persons and institutions before winding up this research work while it is impossible to acknowledge all of them adequately but consider it to be my privilege and foremost duty to record here my sense of indebtedness to a few.

I wish to express my sincere indebtedness to Professor P.K. Shrivastava, Head of the Department of Anthropology, Dr. Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya, Sagar for providing me with excellent laboratory facilities.

Words are inadequate to express my gratitude to supervisor Dr. A.N. Sharma, Department of Anthropology, Dr. Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya, Sagar for his keen interest, encouragement, distinguished and valuable guidance, suggestions and also for providing necessary facilities despite his very busy and tight schedule.

I extend fervent thanks to Dr. G.S. Giri, Department of Yogic Sciences, Dr. Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya, Sagar for his encouragement and suggestion in enlightening my understanding regarding research work.

I am thankful to Dr. S. Lymhe, Department of Chemistry, Dr. Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya, Sagar for computer data analysis for his kind interest inspiration and encouragement.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not thank all the Principals of Schools from which the data was taken. I will always remember their co-operation.

I am grateful to my brothers Deepak Purwar and Amul, Ranjan for solving various field work problems that met with during research work.

I am highly obliged to my grand-father and grand-mother who helped and encouraged me during my research.

This thesis would not have been in the present from without the requisite motivations. Constant support and all kind of possible help which I received especially from my seniors, friends, all staff members and well wishers even at the cost of their precious time. I am short of words to express my gratitude to them.
I can only record my hearty thanks to my sister Ku. Shobha Purwar for her excellent co-operation, inspiration and friendly academic discussions.

I am especially thankful to my mother and father for their kind co-operation.

I am equally grateful to my husband Mr. Prabhulla Kumar Purwar for timely encouragement.

I extend my thanks Mr. W.R. Matthew for perusal and correction of my manuscript.

I shall be failing in my duties if I can't acknowledge my indebtedness in words to my spiritual guide Shri Ram Sharma who first advised me to undertake this research work and also encouraged me from time to time.

I am also thankful to Mr. Rakesh Purwar, Ku. Maumita Chetterji, Ku. Sabhia Sultan and Ku. Nanishita Jain and Om Narayan Tiwari for their ungrudging help.

I am very grateful to Dr. R.S. Bali and Dr. H.N. Patrely and all teachers of the Department of Anthropology, Dr. Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya, Sagar.

I also extend my thanks to Shri P.C. Yadav and Harishanker Yadav for this excellent typescript that they have produced.

Last but not the least, I must not fail to express my deep members of the family and relatives the patience, sacrifice, blessing and affection extended to meet time of trouble.
