“There is no happiness except in the realization that we have accomplished something”

The investigator wishes to acknowledge and convey his deep gratitude to all those who have enriched and crystallized his study, the almighty “GOD” whose grace and countless blessings were experienced throughout the study.

The investigator expresses his profound gratitude to mentor; philosopher and guide Dr. Daniel J. Penkar Director, Sinhgad Institute of Management Pune, without his able leadership earning the Ph. D. degree in management would have remained for me a dream only, who through his constant encouragement, valuable guidance, friendly advice and sustained patience made me accomplish this study.

I equally owe Dr. Rajiv Yeravdekar, Dean Faculty of Health Sciences, Symbiosis International University, Pune a great debt of gratitude for his invaluable and never ending inspiration and blessing during course of Ph. D. work.

The investigator deeply indebted to Dr. Dixit M. C. Dean, Faculty of Modern Sciences and Professional Skills, Tilak Maharashtra Vidyapeeth Pune, for the smooth facilitation of this study with necessary administrative permissions.

The investigator express his wholehearted appreciation and gratitude to Col. Jayalakshmi N (Retd) Principal Symbiosis College of Nursing for continuous support and constant guidance throughout the study.
The investigator is very grateful to Zillah Parishad authorities Pune, for permitting to undertake this study in secondary schools of Pune city.

A sincere acknowledgement is extended to Mr Digambar V. Inamdar, Chief Administrative Officer, Raisoni Group of Institutes, Wagholi Pune for his valuable guidance in statistical analysis.

The investigator also wishes to convey his deep gratitude to all the teachers for their active participation and other staff for their amiable support, co-operation and timely help. Without the teacher’s willing co-operation, the study would not have been possible.

The investigator expresses his sincere gratitude to all the faculty members of the Symbiosis College of Nursing for their support, encouragement and valuable suggestions, throughout the period of study.

The investigator wish to convey a word of thanks to the experts who contributed their valuable time and efforts towards validating the tools.

The investigator expresses sincere and deep gratitude to all his family members for their ongoing sacrifice, co-operation, inspiration and never ending valuable support.

Prof. Joshi Sonopant Ganpatrao.