Acknowledgement

At the very beginning I express my heartfelt gratitude to the Almighty by whose blessings I completed my work. I bow with my folded palms before the divine force. Words fail to express my reverential gratitude towards my parents Shri T. K. Das and Smt. Tinku Das who have provided all kinds of support and encouragement for pursuing my studies, they have been like a backbone during my tough times and shining stars with my happiness.

The present thesis bears its existence only due to the regular guidance, incentives and continuous persuasions of my supervisor Prof. S.P. Bajpai sir. Head, Department of Botany and Dean Faculty of Life Sciences, Dr. H.S. Gour University, Sagar (M.P.). Just like a father he took all the pains of my mistakes and he indeed enriched my persuasion by contributing his subtle arguments and remarks and for all this I am greatly indebted to him.

I am thankful to UGC for providing me financial support throughout my research work.

I owe a deep sense of gratitude for kind and quiet encouragement by Dr. Pradeep Tiwari Sir and Dr. Kaushlesh Pathak Sir, Ecology Lab, Dept. of Botany Dr. H.S. Gour University. Sagar. They took sufficient pains to clarify some of the issues, as the thesis got under way. These discussions with them truly proved helpful on many occasions.

I am also greatly thankful to Mr. and Mrs. Anand Jain, Jeevan Anand Agro farms, Sagar for their pungent remarks and elaboration of several concepts, which elaborated my thought and gave a new direction, really I have been greatly benefited by their discussions and owe deep obedience to them.

At this moment I cannot forget my friend Mr. Nitin Sharma and his family members, who helped and supported throughout my research work. My utmost thanks goes to him for being a loving friend and a practical adviser. I am also thankful to all my well-wishers. Mr. and Mrs. Pinjwani, Mrs. Abha Dasgupta, Mr. and Mrs. B.K. Deb and family members and Mr. and Mrs. Chakraborty for their love, affection and continuous encouragement for my work. Last but not the least Mr. N.R. Patra sir and Mr. Goutam, Professional Computers, Sagar all credits goes to them cause without their help the thesis would not have came into existence so beautifully.

I am thankful to my affectionate younger sister Sonia Das currently working as a PRO in International School, Bhopal and Mr. Piyush Bhutt for their sincere concern and encouragement for my research work. They have always been a great support during my tough times.

I am thankful to all my colleagues Archana, Lali, Simmi, Shruti, Dola, Sandeep and Mr. Yogendra who are working with me as research scholar in Ecology Lab, Department of Botany and some of my hostel mates Asha, Khushboo, Pooja, Neha, Divya, Shaili, Shusma and Priyanka for their cooperation and encouragement.

I would be unjust if I don’t pay homage to the great scholars and academicians whose wise writings have inspired me and I took help of their thought provoking utterances.

I also extend my thanks to the teaching and non-teaching staff of the department and friends who kept my moral high in pursuit of my studies. With all these submission I give rest to my pen with thankfulness to Shri Shirdi Sai once more.
