Acknowledgements

With a feeling of profound pleasure I can say that the credit of this work goes to my esteemed guide Prof. (Mrs.) Sadhana Rajput. Thanks from depth of my heart for her erudite guidance, constant encouragement, critical remarks, precise discussion, timely suggestions and the nourishment of the knowledge, conferred upon me.

I am greatly indebted to Prof. M. R. Yadav, Head of Pharmacy Department, Prof. S. J. Rajput, Coordinator of G. H. Patel Pharmacy Building, and Prof. A. N. Misra, Dean, Faculty of Technology and Engineering, for providing me the required facilities to carry out my work.

With the deep sense of regards, I wish to express my sincere most gratitude to Prof. M. R. Yadav, Dr. R. C. Mashru, Prof. K. Sawant, Dr. P. S. Nagar, and Mr. S. P. Rathod who are always trying to polish the scientific side of student’s mind. They taught me a lot indirectly by arranging seminars, conferences and scientific sessions and putting their efforts for enriching the knowledge regarding present situation and future perspectives in pharmaceutical sciences.

The financial support from All India Council for Technical Education (New Delhi) in the form of National Doctoral Fellowship is gratefully acknowledged.

Non teaching staff; Hasumati madam, Heena madam, and Vaishali madam and all non-teaching staff, cannot be forgotten. Their kind nature and promptness in ordering and issuing our lab requirements is appreciable.

I offer my sincere thanks to M/s. Deshpande laboratory, Bhopal, India, for conducting cell line studies. I am thankful to M/s, Central Salt and Marine Chemical Research Institute, Bhavnagar for providing the facility of SEM, TEM, XRD and Nitrogen adsorption isotherm.

I am also thankful to M/s Biochem Pharma A.G., Mumbai, for providing a gift sample of methotrexate.

It was pleasure working with my colleagues cum good friends Mr. Abhishek Pathak, Mrs. Reshma Jain, Mrs. Dipti Ruikar, Ms. Diti Desai, Mrs. Shital Gandhi, Mrs. Greeshma Mehta and Ms. Prachi.
Expressing the sincere appreciation for the friends who gave the feeling of being with should not be forgotten. I am heartily thankful to friends like Nitin, Mayur, Gaurav, William, Pinkal, Chetan, with whom I enjoyed the time after lab hours which rejuvenated me for the next day. Their support and encouragement provide me strength.

My special thanks to My Parents, brother Sohil, sister Anisha who helped me a lot in many ways. In achieving this goal, it’s life long debt of emotions and love. Thanks will never been a sufficient word for them. Their blessings and prayers are invaluable.

During this journey, a person who sacrificed a lot and remained always with me was my better half “My Doctor”. Her company smoothened the path. A sense of pleasure is sprinkled while thanking her for being with me all the time.
