ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

A successful work is a culmination of efforts by many people, some directly involved and some others who quietly encourage and extend their support from the background.

I would like to begin my intense gratitude to honorable guide Dr. Somashekhar C Desai, BLDE College of Engineering & Technology, Bijapur, Karnataka for the required technical guidance, inspiration, active help and constant encouragement throughout the work.

I would also express my profound gratitude to Management of JJTU, faculties and staff members of R&D-Department of Computer Science and Engineering for their continuous support during my Research Work.

I am grateful to Sri Krishna Institute of Technology, Bengaluru-Karnataka and Planet- I Technologies, Bengaluru-Karnataka, who encouraged me to avail the lab and research facilities. I also thank all my colleagues, who helped me directly or indirectly in completing this work.

I specially express my thanks to my Father, Mother, wife and family members, who always strengthened my soul and inner sense to accomplish the present goal.

Finally, I am very much grateful to god the great, for making my willpower strong to complete this work in time.
