ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The study on "Iran's Policy Towards The Persian Gulf Region Since 1979" has been undertaken in the Centre for West Asian and African Studies for the partial fulfilment of the degree of Doctor of Philosophy of the School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi.

I owe a special debt of gratitude to my supervisors Professor A.H.H. Abidi and Professor Gulshan Dietl for scholarly guidance and for giving me the freedom to work. I gained from him the necessary perspective and direction of this study.

I am thankful to the staff of Jawaharlal Nehru University Library and the Seminar Library of the Department of West Asian Studies, AMU for their unstained cooperation. Thanks are also due to my friends Pratap, Zafar and Moyyad who have helped me in numerous ways in completing this study and keeping the smiles when the going got tough. A special thank you to M. Asim Bhai who typed this thesis with immense care and patience.

For my Bhaijan, Shaukat, my BIL, Jawaid, my little Gudrun and my adorable nephew Sikandar who shared with me my days of labour and every tension filled moment which preceded the completion of this work - a very special and affectionable 'Thank You'.

I owe my world to my parents. Patient, always; concerned, every moment. They have stood by me when the day was beset by the night. They were there when the dawn broke through it. I have not been easy but they have taken it in their stride.

Lastly, this work is an acknowledgement of gratitude to my wife Jahan. She is the difference - between what I was and what I am; between the ramble and a life of purpose. She is the weakness and the strength - she has been my pal all throughout.
