Acknowledgements

First and foremost, I would like to thank my Ph.D. supervisor Dr. Nivedita Deo. I wish to express my gratitude for her consistent support, guidance, invaluable suggestions provided during the Ph.D. years of life. She has inculcated my interest in this highly exciting and interdisciplinary research area. I will be always obliged to her for showing faith in my capabilities.

I take this opportunity to express my deep respect to Prof. Sanjay Jain. In short, it was not possible for me to complete this research work without his motivation. I am really thankful to Jain Sir, for his patient hearing of my ideas during discussions. I would also like to express my deep regards to my teacher as well as colleague Dr. R. S. Kaushal. I am indebted to Kaushal Sir for his rational motivation and guidance. I would like to thank Dr. Awadhesh Prasad for encouragement, discussions, and support. I express my sincere regards and thanks to Prof. T. R. Sheshadri, Prof. P. Dasgupta, Prof. D. S. Kulshreshtha, and Prof. S.P. Tiwari for discussions, encouragement, and valuable lessons towards life.

My sincere thanks goes to the Head of Department of Physics & Astrophysics, Prof. R. P. Tandon for discussions, encouragement, and providing necessary facilities in the department for my research work.

I would like to thank Prof. Bikas K. Chakrabarti, Prof. Frederic Abergel, Dr. Anirban Chakrabarti, Dr. Arnab Chatarjee, and Asim Ghosh for encouragement, discussion, and hospitality at ECONOPHYS-KOLKATA conferences helping in understanding various aspects in the unique subject of econophysics. I thank Dr. Damien Challet, Dr. Panigrahi (IISER), Dr. Sitabhra Sinha (IMSc), V. Sasidevan (TIFR) for constructive discussions made at these conferences. I would like to thank Prof. Hilda A. Cerdeira, ICTP for coming to discuss our work and exchange of ideas.

In fact, resources and facilities are important to perform any task. Thus, I gratefully acknowledge the support from the Ramjas College, University of Delhi. I would like to thank my colleagues Dr. Hament, Dr. Chilana, Dr. Manoj, Dr. K.K. Gupta, Dr. Suresh, and Dr. Vikas for valued discussions.

It is rightly said that we are born with some relations and some relations are built by us during our life. My dear friends Dr. Manish Agrawal, Digant, and Vipin have become as brothers, due to their long and close association with me. I am really indebted for them for being with me in every endeavor of my life so far. I specially thank Manish for his continuous support, encouragement, and uncountable discussions of research and life during the last 10 years. I am specially thankful to my dear friends, Dr. Ranjit, Dr. Sushil, Dr. Sanil, Dr. Partho, Dr. Sukanto, Dr. Areejit, Dr. Jaswant, Dr. Vikrant, Dr. Harish, Dr. Ravikant, Dharmender, Ajay, Yogesh, Pawan, Dr. Itty, Poonam, Pradeep, Tarun, Garima, Vinita, Shushil Gautam, Sanjeev, and others for discussions and being with me at one or other point of time.

I wish special thank to my grandfather Late Sh. Baljeet Singh for his unconditional love, motivation, and discussions that inspired me to become hardworking. The words are not enough to express my sincere thanks, regards, and feelings to my revered parents and siblings. Their never-ending encouragement and support is a powerful source of inspiration and energy. I am grateful to my father for his total support, freedom, and motivation for my every aspiration. It is impossible to express in words my indebtedness to my mother who is the greatest source of strength and inspiration for me. My special thanks to my dear brothers, Krishan Pal, Anil, and Amit who have been my pillars of strength in all difficult times. I want to express my deepest gratitude to my sisters Kavita and Anita for their love and support.

Finally, I express my sincere gratitude to my wife, Anuradha Kashyap, for her support, patience and encouragement. She helped me through the hardest times and taught me to be always optimistic. I thank my sweet little son Aayush for his love.
