On 21st July, 2003, a post graduate girl enters IMTECH with many dreams and desires to contribute something to the exciting field of science. Smile, laugh, tears, ups and downs all were there to add spice to my Ph.D. story. What so ever the situation would have been I always remembers three lines: My parents believe in me, I believe in myself and God, I believe in you. Today I accept what others say, "time flys, we cannot hold it". Fortunately, I won the battle of results and papers because of helping hands around me. I take this opportunity to jott down some words of thanks for them.

One scientist who took faith in my scientific aptitude and gave me an opportunity to work in his lab is my mentor, Dr. Sekhar Majumdar. His critical evaluations, fruitful discussion and invaluable suggestions are especially acknowledged as these nurtured in me the spirit of basic research. I appreciate his constant reading habit, thorough knowledge of the subject and marvelous memory.

I am thankful to former Director, Dr. Amit Ghosh in whose tenure I joined IMTECH. I am also thankful to the present director, Dr. Grish Sahni for providing excellent research facilities especially the well flourished modular labs which increased the pace of my work.

It’s my great pleasure to thanks Dr. Manoj Raje for all confocal experiments which forms one of the important elements of my paper. Dr. Raje was also always there for constructive discussions.

I am grateful to Dr. G.C. Varshney for his social and amicable nature. During my entire research period he helped me out of the way and gave me full freedom to use his instruments for my research work when modular labs were not there.

I am really thankful to Rajendra ji for teaching me tissue culture work during my initial days of research work.

I acknowledge Dr. Swaranjit Singh for teaching me basic microbiology work during my initial year. I also thank Dr. P. Sen, Dr. Saumya Raychaudhuri, Dr. Pradip Chakraborti, Dr. Purnananda G uptasarma, Dr. A. K, Bachhawat Dr. Javed, Dr. Jagmohan Singh, Dr. Mondal and Dr. R. Kishore for their constant encouragement. They were always there to extend their helping hand whenever it was needed.

I express my sense of gratitude to Dr. Sadhna Majumdar. Her constructive criticism made me firm in science.

A special token of thanks is deserved by Dr. Chaaya and Dr. Jasdeep Kaur. Their smiling faces always added a sense of encouragement in me.

I couldn't find any word from my dictionary to express gratitude for my dearest dude, (Dr) Rohan. I am proud that with lapse of time the relationship also grew up. A stranger in IMTECH, who became my senior then a teacher and finally turned out to be my best friend. During this entire tenure he was always there to extend his helping hands in my research as well as personal life. At this moment I just pray God, may our friendship lives forever.

Then come my labmates; Mahesh, a person with ever smiling face and positive attitude was always there to help me. I am highly thankful to my lovely junior cum small sis, Satindra for all the love, affection and help I received from her. The jovial nature of Soumyajit (son) always made lab atmosphere positive, refreshing and lively. Aslam and Rajesh entry into the lab was welcomed by all with open arms. I will always miss bollywood talks and old hindi songs list of Aslam (grand son). I will also miss debates and discussion over all political, social and national issues with Rajesh. All my labmates participated in making lab atmosphere an ideal platform for carrying out research in an enthusiastic way. I wish all my lab buddies good luck for their future and hope they will give there hundred percent in increasing the lab productivity day by day.

Special thanks go to Ravneet and Iqbal ji for providing technical assistance in the lab. There never replacing absence will always be felt in the lab. I also thank IMTECH family members: Selvanji, Anil Theophilus ji and Rajkumarji.

The journey would have really been tough without the cooperation and timely help whenever required by seniors especially: Dr. Sharan, Dr. Sumit, Dr. Chitranshu, Dr. Rakesh, Dr. Amita, Dr. Sangeeta, Dr. Rahul, Dr. Vandana (Vandy), Dr. Amrita, Dr. Sudipto (dada), Dr. Vibhu, Dr. Shubbir, Dr. Anuradha (Anu di da), Dr. Meghna, Dr. Sudesh, Sukhwinder Kaur, Ajit, Narendra, Arshad. Words fail to justify the untiring care and affection showered by these seniors on me.

I am proud to say that my friends Suhail and Amit proved the quote "A friend in need is a friend indeed". I admire Suhail's intelligence, practical skills and jokes. He was always there to listen my chirpings patiently. It was his help which transformed my thesis into a presentable form. I enjoyed the cheerful company of my batchmates: Sekhar, Kishore, Shilpy, Manish, Sankalp, Kamlesh, Mannan, Puja, Neetu, Neha, Vijay and Ashok. More than 10 years of company with my batchmate Jaspreet Kaur needs special mention. She is an all-rounder with never say die attitude.

I was lucky in being blessed with wonderful and caring room mates: Sandeep Kaur (late), Dr. Suman and Puja darling. Time spent with them in room is really unforgettable.

I will always miss b'day parties and lady sangeet celebrations at girl's hostel with my juniors: Rachna, Richa, Archana, Sushma, Sneha, Shweta, Divya, Ashu, Dipanwita, Swati Halidar and Vijaya.

I will also always miss cafeteria tea (10:30 am and 3:30 pm). I always enjoyed the cheerful company with my labmates and Nigam, Alpana, Vinod, Rashim Pal, Ranjana, Santosh, Ravi during this tea hour. Tea, chips, biscuits and pranks were chief ingredients of this tea break.

I always cherish the company with my juniors and friends: Surinder, Miraje, Pankaj Chauhan, Hemant, Viyender, Mohan, Anuj, Haider, Yashpal, Bhupinder, Arun, Eshu, Soniya, Hardeep, Deepshikha and Harsimran.
The constant moral support and patient understanding throughout these years by my wonderful friends: Shiffali and Rahul is greatly acclaimed.

Timely delivery of certain kits and chemicals by Jimmy ji, Harry ji, Jatinder ji and Vikas ji is duly acknowledged.

The excellent support of entire Bioinformatic centre led by Dr. Raghav is of very high value. I thank the entire family of IMTECH Library, Store and Purchase section, Animal House, Administration, Finance and Account section, PTM group, Instrumentation, ESD, Cafeteria and Director’s office are greatly acknowledged. I also express my sincere gratitude to the mess workers for making my stay at IMTECH healthy.

The financial assistance provided by CSIR (Award No. 31/50(184)/2003-EMR-I) throughout my tenure is duly acknowledged.

I say God cannot be every where so he made “parents”. My life can never replace the salient sacrifices made by my parents for me. The firm faith of my parents in me bought best out of me. Respect of time, determination, honesty, truthfulness, faith in God taught by papa and mummy played a critical role in the completion of my work. There love, affection and constant encouragement always had been a driving force in my life. The quote “Veenu, we are proud of you” made by my Jeeju, Jatinder and sis, Moni, always made me acquaint with my hidden potential and made me desire new heights. Hearing to the voice of little wonders of my family; Aryan and Annika was always refreshing. I love my family and owe my life to them. I thank the whole Sharma family for extending their love, affection and support to me.

During Ph.D. a new phase of my life also started. I thank God for giving me so understanding, cooperative and loving in-laws. They were always there to understand my priority of professional life over personal life. I thank my whole in-laws family for absorbing me into their hearts.

The entry of my husband, Amit brought an additional and joyful dimension to the mission of my life. His support and positive attitude towards life was a strong driving force that kept me going on smoothly and patiently in all ups and downs. His faith in me made me dream still higher. I am sure for the rest of my life he will always be there with me to cross all hurdles of life.

Above all I would like to thank the Almighty, Lord Ganesha for giving me strength to take important decisions of my life. It is with his grace and blessings that I am able to reach this phase of my life and pray Him to keep on showering his blessings on me for rest of my life.
